WILSON APPROVES PLAN

Action is Thought Likely to Have an Important Moral Effect in Mexico

LANSING REPORTS PROGRESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Recognition of the party led by General Carranza as the de facto government in Mexico was unanimously agreed upon today by the Pan-American conference as the step to be recommended to their respective governments.

Secretary Lansing, on behalf of the United States government, expressed its intention to recognize the Carranza faction and the ambassadors of Brazil, Chile, Argentina and the minister of Bolivia, Uruguay and Guatemala transmitted tonight the decision of the Washington government as well as their opinions in agreement with it. Mr. Lansing has obtained the approval of President Wilson to the plan and before the conference began all the other ministers in the Latin-American corps also had given their adherence to it.

The action of today's conference was regarded generally as the most important diplomatic step in the Mexican situation since the United States decided to withhold recognition from the Huerta government, more than two years ago.

It means that the Carranza government will receive the moral support of the United States and that an embargo on shipment of arms to opposing factions will be laid as soon as recognition actually is extended, which probably will be within a fortnight.

The fact that the United States has already decided to recognize the Carranza government is thought likely to have an important moral effect in Mexico. Officials believe many elements will now align themselves with Carranza and that the latter himself will adopt a liberal attitude toward his opponents, permitting of a reconciliation of the various branches of the original constitutional party of which he was one of the founders.

Secretary Lansing made it clear that while the United States could not condition recognition upon the giving of amnesty or the settlement of other questions of a strictly internal nature, satisfactory assurances on these and other subjects have been received from the Carranza government. These guarantees are as follows:

1. Carranza's Guarantees.
2. Foreigners will be protected in their lives and property.
3. The Carranza government assumes full responsibility for claims growing out of the revolution and will adjust them equitably by means of international commissions.
4. No one will suffer in his and property on account of religious beliefs; all priests and nuns who have taken part in Mexican politics will be permitted to return and will be protected provided they do not participate in politics and obey the Mexican laws governing the separation of church and state.
5. A decree of amnesty is in preparation which will enable all elements, irrespective of political affiliations heretofore to return to Mexico with the exception of those guilty of complicity in the plot to kill Madero and Suarez or who are charged with civil crimes. A few political leaders who hitherto have opposed the Carranza government will not be permitted to return until the government is firmly established and then only if they will pledge allegiance to it.

The form in which recognition is to be sent to the Carranza capital or an ambassador named by Carranza received here or that there might be an exchange of notes.

Lansing Reports to Diplomats.

Secretary Lansing reported to assembled ambassadors of Argentina, Brazil and Chile and the ministers of Bolivia, Uruguay and Guatemala today, that he had conferred with representatives of the Villa and Carranza factions and had come to the conclusion that the Carranza party possessed the military supremacy or "material capacity" requisite for a government. On this point all were agreed.

Memoranda filed by Enrique C. Llerenas, representative of General Villa and Eliseo Arredondo, representative of General Carranza, were examined to determine the "moral capacity" of the claimants.

GOV. WILLIS PLANTS A TREE.

San Diego, Calif., Oct. 9.—Governor Frank B. Willis of Ohio will today plant a buckeye tree on the grounds of the San Diego Exposition. It is Ohio day at the exposition, and a military and civic parade, with a reception and ball, are some of the features of the occasion.

MANAGERS OF MINES CRITICIZE GOV. HUNT

REPLY TO ARIZONA EXECUTIVE'S
PROPOSALS FOR CONFERENCE

Accuse Governor of Making "Inflammatory Speeches — Governor's Statement Asserts Criticism is Not Substantiated by Any Official Reports.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 9.—The managers of the closed mines in the Clifton-Morenci district in Arizona, in their replies to Governor W. R. Hunt's proposals for a conference to attempt to reach a settlement, made public here today, accuse the governor of making "inflammatory speeches" and of "open and encouraging affiliation with the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners."

The mine operators express a willingness to enter into arrangements for resumption of operations on condition that "the atmosphere must be entirely clarified of the dominating influence of the Western Federation of Miners, under whatever name or title or disguise it may take on."

Hunt Issues Statement.

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 9.—Governor George W. P. Hunt issued late today a statement regarding the contents of the letter received by him from the copper mine managers of the Clifton-Morenci district who are at El Paso, in which he asserts that the operators are stirring up additional ill feeling between themselves and the striking miners.

Criticism of him and the peace of financiers of Greenlee county contained in the "abusive and accusatory letter so ill-advisedly issued by two of the companies' managers is," the governor says, "not substantiated by any official reports from the scene of the strike."

"The facts," the statement continues, "are, as I believe of such a nature as to thoroughly disprove a number of statements included in the mine managers' letter." They are being collected, it is stated, for publication when the situation shall have become calmer.

"For the present," the statement concludes, "all my hope and energy is centered on a single object: The bringing of the mine managers and their employees at Clifton and Morenci into such full and free discussion of their differences as may lead to a peaceful settlement."

STATE VETERINARIAN IS STRICKEN WITH TYPHOID

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 9.—Dr. Orrin E. Dyson, state veterinarian in charge of the state's fight on foot and mouth disease, has been stricken with typhoid fever, it was learned today.

Dr. Dyson was directing his field assistants today with the aid of a telephone at his bedside, but it is expected the state live stock board will put another veterinarian in charge until Dr. Dyson recovers. The board is to meet Tuesday.

It is believed Dr. Dyson contracted the disease while traveling about the state in his efforts to eradicate foot and mouth disease.

OBSERVE FIRE PREVENTION DAY THROUGHOUT THE STATE

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Fire prevention day was observed throughout the state today by proclamation of Governor Dunne, was the forty-fourth anniversary of the great Chicago fire. Fire prevention was made the subject of instruction to public school pupils and official warnings resulted in particular effort to clear away rubbish and waste about homes and factories.

From fire department headquarters tonight it was reported that less than the usual number of fires with loss of property had taken place today and that none involving loss of life or large property damage had occurred.

BIG PRISON CONVENTION OPENS

Oakland, Calif., Oct. 9.—The biggest gathering of prison workers, prison reformers and prison officials in the history of the country opened a meeting here today, at which the problems of the prisons will be thrashed out at great length. It is the annual convention of the American Prison Association, and will extend until next Thursday evening. Several hundred delegates have come from the Eastern states where just now the prison questions are being agitated. The weighty questions to be talked over are prison discipline, criminal law reform, prevention of crime, probation and parole, the status of the discharged prisoner, improvement of jail conditions, outdoor employment of prisoners, the working of the honor system in prisons, and the crime statistics.

HONOR MEMBERS OF PORTO RICAN BAR

Boston, Oct. 9.—Some of the leading barristers of Porto Rico are the guests of the Boston University Law School this afternoon at a complimentary luncheon and reception. The Porto Rieans are here to attend the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the first time, upon the occasion of the initial exercise of jurisdiction over Porto Rico by the court. Among the visitors are Peter J. Hamilton, U. S. district judge for Porto Rico, Francis H. Dexter, president of the Porto Rican Federal Bar Assn., and several native lawyers.

TEUTONS TAKE OLD SERBIAN CAPITAL

Austro-Germans Attempt to Make a Great Drive
into Serb Territory

BULGARIANS ON MARCH

Acting in Concert With Their
New Allies, the Bulgars Are Advancing Toward Pirot

GREEK ATTITUDE OBSCURE

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Belgrade the old capital of Serbia, or the greatest part of it, is in possession of an enemy for the second time since the outbreak of the war, while Austro-German troops have crossed the Save and Danube rivers and are attempting to make a great drive into Serbian territory.

Capture of City Expected.

The capture of Belgrade has been expected as it was not thought the Serbians would make any serious attempt to save the city. It is situated on a point of the Save and Danube, jutting toward Austria and could consequently be attacked from three sides—operations which the Austro-Germans found little difficulty in carrying out.

The real test of strength will come when the invaders reach the main Serbian positions in the mountains where the Austrians were so severely defeated in December last. The present, however, is more formidable attack, the new army group under command of Field Marshal von Mackensen having been organized for the purpose. Its strength is not known, but it is supposed that this army is composed chiefly of Austro-Hungarians, with a stiffening of Germans and is commanded for the most part by German officers. General Von Koeves and Von Gallwitz, who took part in the great offensive against Russia, have commands under von Mackensen.

Bulgars Advance Toward Pirot.

The Bulgarians, acting in concert with their new allies, are advancing from Sofia toward Pirot, on the Serbian frontier, the fortress which covers the road to Nish, the Serbian capital. The French and British are landing troops at the rate of 14,000 daily at Saloniki to send by railway to the assistance of Serbia.

The Balkans, therefore, have taken their place with the Russian and western fronts as a center on which the interest of the world will rest for some time to come.

The Black and Aegean Seas also will be the scenes of greater activity, for as soon as Bulgaria strikes at Serbia the allied fleets will give the Bulgarian ports their attention.

Although the Bulgarian minister at London, who has not received or asked for his passports, declared today that Bulgaria had no quarrel with England, an attack on Serbia, would be considered by England as sufficient reason for a quarrel.

Turkey, according to a despatch is sending 50,000 men to Varna and Dedagatch to help in the defence of those ports.

Greece Attitude Still Obscure.

Greece's attitude is still somewhat obscure. The Greek minister at Paris today reiterated that Greece's neutrality would continue to be one of benevolence toward the belligerent powers. But more than that had been expected, and the allied capitals are awaiting a definite statement from the new Greek cabinet.

There has been some heavy fighting around Loos in Artois, which the British took in their big attack three weeks ago, and which now apparently is defended by the French. The latter claim that the Germans who were the aggressors were "mowed down" while Berlin declares that the attack made some progress, while a British attack northeast of Vermilles failed.

In Champagne the fighting seems to have resumed the character of trench warfare, the French holding virtually all their gains while there also has been a resumption of activity in Lorraine, where the Germans record the capture of a much contested height near Leintrey.

Pis 1 March. V. S. Henderson is again striking at Drink and has made some headway, but along the rest of the front it is the Russians who are doing most of the attacking. The general belief here is that the troops on both wings of the eastern lines and intend to make one more effort to secure the line of the Dvina river in the north and the drive the Russians across the Bessarabian frontier in the south before digging themselves in for the winter.

PLAN A KUTTING PARTY.

Today is the very time for a cutting party. The frost has come and the nuts are ripe. Call Cherry's for the rig and find out where to go.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

CHICAGO SALOONS CLOSE AT MIDNIGHT

Scenes Typical of New Year's Eve Celebrations
Mark Law Enforcement

RESTAURANTS CROWDED

Almost a Regiment of Police
Go on Picket Duty at Twelve o'Clock, But Have Little to Do

TEMPERANCE PEOPLE PARADE

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—At the stroke of twelve last night, the saloons of Chicago closed their doors to remain closed until midnight tonight in pursuance of an order issued by Mayor William Hale Thompson.

The passing of Sunday saloons was marked by scenes typical of New Year's Eve celebrations in all of the cafes and restaurants of the downtown district and in many of the suburban resorts. Restaurant men said the number of people exceeded any previous occasion. Hundreds of fashionable amusement seekers were forced to stand out in the streets awaiting opportunities to be served in the various cafes.

The corporation counsel having ruled that patrons in cafes and restaurants could remain after midnight until they had finished their refreshments, ordered before that time many remained longer than they otherwise would have done.

At 12 o'clock almost a regiment of police went on picket duty in all parts of the city with instructions to stop the selling of liquor after that time. They had little to do, however, as the liquor dealers for the most part appeared to obey the law.

It was the first time since 1871 that Chicago saloons have been closed on Sunday. Managers of a majority of the cafes throughout the city announced that the expense of opening their places at midnight on Sundays for one hour, as they are privileged to do under the law, would be too great to justify them in so opening. This decision means that no liquor will be sold in Chicago between midnight Saturday and 5 o'clock Monday morning.

Temperance Advocates Parade.

Thirty thousand temperance advocates paraded the loop today in one of the most striking demonstrations in the city's history.

The parade followed the refusal of Judge David E. Metchett to issue an injunction preventing the enforcement of the mayor's order which would close 7,152 saloons on Sunday.

Although Chief of Police Healey, after a telephonic communication with the mayor at San Francisco, announced that no arrests would be made tomorrow for violation of the Sunday closing order, the organized liquor interests spread the word among saloon keepers to "clamp the lid on tight after midnight."

A. J. Cernack, head of the United Societies, said this plan would be carried out and that he believed it would make the order of the mayor so unpopular that the public would declare for its revocation.

The parade in the afternoon was the third ever held by the Dry Chicago Federation. General Frederick D. Grant marched at the head of the first one a decade ago. The organizers of today's demonstration said it was held not only in celebration of Mayor Thompson's action but as a first step in the campaign to vote Chicago entirely dry at the election in April.

DEDICATE DIXIE HIGHWAY; START GOOD ROADS TOUR OVER ROUTE

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The new Dixie highway—connecting Chicago with Florida—formally was dedicated today. Immediately after the ceremonies a good roads tour over the new highway was started.

Participating in the dedication exercises were Governor Dunne, of Illinois, and a young woman who typified Chicago, one representing Dixie and a half score of young women appearing for each state along the route.

Governor Dunne rode as far as Watseka, Ill., in one of the automobiles in the tour and then took a train for Danville, where exercises were held tonight.

FIRE DESTROYS WAREHOUSES.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 10.—Fire early today destroyed a block of warehouses in Richmond's wholesale and tobacco district, and at 2 a.m. still was spreading. The loss at that hour was estimated at $250,000.

The Crenshaw Tobacco warehouse and other buildings near Thirteenth and Virginia streets had been burned and two watchmen were reported to have lost their lives.

At 2:30 o'clock the fire had been confined to the block in which it started and was believed to be under control.

WILSON AND FIANCEE RETURN TO CAPITAL

COMPLETE TWO BUSY DAYS BY WATCHING BASEBALL GAME

Trip to Washington From Philadelphia is Made on a Special Train — Receive Constant Overtures in Quaker City — Party Dines at White House.

Washington, Oct. 9.—President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt, his fiancée, returned to Washington tonight much pleased with the reception accorded them in New York and Philadelphia on their first public appearance since their engagement was announced. The couple completed two busy days by watching Boston defeat Philadelphia in the second game of the world series and joining with 20,000 other fans in applauding spectacular plays.

The return to Washington from Philadelphia was made on a special train which covered the distance without stop in three hours and thirty-five minutes. As the party left the train the president shook hands with the engineer, L. G. Bramble.

The party dined at the White House, those present besides the president and his fiancée being Mrs. W. H. Rollins, Mrs. Galt's mother, Secretary and Mrs. McAdoo, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones and the Misses Lucy and Mary Smith of New Orleans, cousins of the president; Col. E. T. Brown of Atlanta, Ga., Secretary Tumulty and Dr. Cary T. Grayson, the president's physician.

In Philadelphia the president and Mrs. Galt received constant overtures. All the way from the railroad station to the National League baseball park they were applauded by crowds that lined the streets. At the park they had difficulty in making their way through throngs which the police apparently could not keep back.

CLUB WOMEN PROTEST AGAINST ACTION OF CHICAGO POLICE

Charge Officers Are Unduly Hostile
Toward Striking Garment Workers.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Ten representative club women of Chicago today told Chief of Police Healey that they had ascertained from investigation that the police were unduly hostile toward striking garment workers. Chief Healey listened to charges of alleged brutality against members of the police department and then promised an investigation of them.

Today marked the end of the second week of the strike and peace apparently is yet far off. The aldermanic committee met again today in an effort to get at the bottom of the factional differences between the two rival garment workers' unions. Adjournment was taken until Monday.

President Hillman, of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, declared tonight that the majority of the striking garment workers were in favor of arbitration.

"We want to arbitrate," said Hillman. "We want to arbitrate wages, hours and collective bargaining and we do not want to waste time in disputing the standing of labor organizations."

ROYAL WELCOME FOR DIXIE TOURISTS.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—The Dixie Highway tourists, a hundred strong, who started this morning on the first over the new national highway from Chicago through the South to Florida are receiving a royal welcome along the highway. They will reach French Lick Springs this evening, where the party will be entertained by Thor as Taggart.

The directors will hold a special meeting, at which it is expected Michigan will be formally admitted to the association. It is also expected that sanction will be given to the Western Florida arm of the highway, to run to Tallahassee and connect with the eastern arm of the highway.

The tourists will go through Indianapolis, Nashville, Chattanooga, Atlanta, Macon and Jacksonville.

PEACE CONFERENCE AT FRISCO

San Francisco, Oct. 9.—The fifth American Peace Congress will meet here tomorrow for a three day session, during which many of the leading peace workers of the world will speak. Subjects to be discussed include the formation of a world league of peace and world court, the relation of the church, schools and colleges to the peace movement, the question of armament, and the attitude of labor to world peace. Among the announced speakers are Senator Henri La Fontaine of Belgium, Muzil Kuli Kahn, Persian minister to the United States, Theodore Marburg, former minister to Belgium, Dr. David Starr Jordan, and A. D. Call, executive director of the American Peace Society.

SOUND LINER RUNS DOWN SCHOONER.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 10.—According to a wireless report received here early this morning by the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, the sound liner Tennessee ran down a small schooner off Fishers Island at 11 o'clock last night. The passengers of the Tennessee were removed to the steamer Concord, which proceeded to New York. No lives were lost so far as known.

SMASH ATLANTIC NAVAL DEFENSES

Fleet Bearing "Enemy"
Landing Force Steams
into Delaware Bay

END FALL MANEUVERS

Details of Operations Will Not Be Available Until Umpires
Reach Navy Department

FLETCHER DIRECTS DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—For the second successive time the naval defense of the Atlantic coast has been smashed, theoretically and hostile troops landed on American soil. Admiral Fletcher's defense fleet was scattered or destroyed by a night torpedo attack, the navy department announced tonight and transports bearing an "enemy" landing force steamed into Delaware Bay at six o'clock tonight bringing to an end the fall navy maneuvers which began Oct. 4th. Rear Admiral Knigut, commanding the "enemy" fleet, had until Oct. 15 to make a landing.

In the maneuvers last spring, Rear Admiral Bagley's "red" fleet broke through the "blue" defense and established a base in Chesapeake Bay.

Details Not Available.

Details of the disaster which in theory swept the "blue" ships from the sea and opened the way for Admiral Knigut will not be available until reports of the empires reach the navy department. It is clear from the brief announcement of the result, however, that Admiral Fletcher's scouts, combing the seas for signs of the approaching enemy, failed to find him while Admiral Knigut's destroyers, in a daring night raid, found and "sunk" nearly all of the sixteen "blue" battleships. The raid, declares the navy department's announcement, "cleared the sea of effective opposition and enabled the 'red' expedition to reach the Delaware."

The problem assigned Admiral Fletcher was to defeat a "hostile" expedition directed toward getting a foothold on our Atlantic coast, the department's statement says. Under his command were the sixteen battleships of the fleet, sixteen destroyers, 12 submarines, a mining division and necessary auxiliary craft. Admiral Knigut's fleet was composed of the old armored cruiser Brooklyn, three destroyers and five auxiliary ships; but in theory it represented a powerful naval force conveying a huge fleet of troop transports.

News of the enemy's approach found the "blue" fleet concentrated at Hampton Roads. The "red" force was reported about 1,200 miles at sea off Chesapeake Capes.

Admiral Fletcher's scouting ships and destroyers rushed to sea under forced draft when the word came, while the main fleet cruised on patrol along the coast.

The scouts failed in their task, the umpires decided, while "red" destroyers, coming far ahead of the battle fleet and troopships, found and destroyed the "blue" fleet.

The game was played not only by the fleets but by all coast navy yards and stations and the bureau of the department here as well. Once the battleship Wyoming threatened the main fleet, an epidemic of diphtheria and ordered back to the New York yard. The medical corps issued orders for care of the men to be landed and purification of the ship while hasty orders for assembling a new crew were flashed by the bureau of navigation. Again, the Wyoming was rammed and headed toward Narragansett Bay according to Admiral Fletcher's "constructive" report. Prompt arrangements to dock the ship at New York were made.

TO BEGIN CONCRETE WORK.

If plans work out the concrete work will be commenced on the South Main street paving tomorrow. The work has been held up the past few days on account of not being able to get material.

Garbage Disposal.

The growing sentiment in Jacksonville for the erection of a plant for garbage disposal is in line with widespread feeling on that subject. In Mason City, Iowa a contract has recently been awarded for a plant which will cost about $8,000. The plant it is claimed will have a capacity of about twenty tons a day and garbage can be handled for 30c a ton. The operating cost for labor is small, as one man can do all of the work. The expectation in operating such plants is that the sales from fertilizer will go a long way toward paying not only the operating cost but interest on the initial investment.

A Simple But Complete Rule.

Careful head cultivation is the simple but very comprehensive rule, adherence to which L. D. Young, of Bloomington, says has enabled him to win his title as champion corn grower of Illinois. He has a record of raising one hundred and fifty-six bushels of corn on one acre of land, and as a reward for this showing, Gov. Dunne has received from the Panama-Pacific exposition a bronze medal which is to be awarded to Mr. Young. In Illinois the Top Notes Farmers' club includes in its membership only men and boys who have grown more than one hundred bushels of corn to the acre, and Mr. Young has just been given the first honor by that organization. When the medal is presented Mr. Young is expected to make a short address and outline the methods that he used in securing the splendid record that he has made. His statement should prove of great value to the farmers of this section, as the farming conditions which surround Mr. Young are practically the same that obtain here.

A Joke on the Joker.

The average person who drives along the country highways is familiar with the law which requires a vehicle to give half the road to one approaching from the rear and wishing to pass it a signal is given. Occasionally, though, there are persons who purposely obscure the highway by declining to turn to one side when a signal is sounded. There have been instances heretofore where such persons seem to consider that it is a rare joke to cause this delay and annoyance for an approaching car.

A Decatur man who has this spirit recently had a lesson in joking which he will not be likely to forget. He was driving along near Taylorville when a man in a Ford car approached from the rear and signaled for the opportunity to pass. The Decatur man simply held to the road. The signal was given three or four times without being followed by the desired result, and a day or two later the Decatur "road hog" was served with a summons to appear in court. There he was fined in accordance with the law for obstructing the highway and the total cost was $20.55. He has resulted the next time he will give half the road.

Safe Investments.

The Burlington Hawkeye is seemingly engaged in a constant campaign to boost the prices of land in the vicinity of that city. Almost every day the Hawkeye records the sale of some farm and points out how much profit the owner has had by comparing the sale and purchase prices. The sale of an 80-acre farm at $225 per acre, was mentioned recently, but it was conceded that unusual improvements made this price possible. Then the writer went on to say that while it was expected that the day was not far distant when all high class Iowa lands would command $300 to $325 an acre, that it could not be truthfully said that the day had arrived. Certainly the continued recording of profits made from handling high-priced land will have a tendency to inspire investors with confidence. High priced land does not produce a high rate of interest, but it does have the quality of certainty and security which does not attend many alluring investment propositions which in the end prove disastrous. The man who buys Morgan county land at any price is playing pretty safe.

Law Enforcement Benefits.

One good effect of the agitation for the Sunday closing of saloons in Chicago has been the resulting comment on the need there is throughout the state for the general observance and enforcement of law. It has often been said that what this commonwealth needs is not new legislation, but for the people to study and become familiar with the laws they already have, and for officials to enforce existing laws. The last Illinois general assembly passed nearly three hundred new laws, and it is safe to say that not one person in a hundred in the state knows anything about a dozen of them.

Another effect of law enforcement will be to do away with laws which have become dead letters and no longer represent the sentiment of the people. If statute books could be cleared of laws in the class which are no longer of any use, the benefit to all citizens would be great. The existence of a lot of laws which by common consent are not enforced has a tendency to engender contempt and disdain for laws and thus to increase lawlessness.

A Misleading Headline.

"Is the Earth Dying Up?" is the headline of an editorial in the Peoria Star, and remembering the city in which the article is written, one naturally expects to read a protest against the widespread agitation against liquor. But the headline is misleading, for the editorial is really a summary of observations made by a scientist of the Smithsonian institute who has been in South Africa and presents an array of facts to bolster up his theory that the earth is really drying up in an appalling sort of way. One district in Africa which is said used to be fairly a land of milk and honey and the home of all kinds of game, today is a desert with dry water courses, dead orange groves and desolate pasture lands. During the past summer when a rain or two a day was the usual program in this locality, the scientist's theory would have found few supporters. This theory of the earth's eventually drying up is by no means new, and has had advocates from time to time. A famous French astronomer declares that this process is under way and will eventually cause the end of the world, but really there is no cause for worry yet.

The Hillis Case.

Some weeks ago Dr. Nevell Dwight Hillis, pastor of Plymouth church, Brookline, startled his audience by announcing that he wanted to confess that the desire for money had led him into unwise and unwarranted speculation. The frank and sincere spirit which the famous minister displayed and the very evident contrition for errors, gained for him practically the unanimous support of his church and congregation. Instead of there being evident the desire for him to resign, the majority of the people seemed to feel that the course the minister had followed in a public confession of error furnished but further evidence of his greatness and goodness.

The coming week it is likely that Dr. Hillis' affairs will be aired in court, and the public will know more in detail what his struggle after wealth has meant. It seems that the former president of the board of trustees of the church has until recently been in charge of the minister's business affairs and that the reason for the public announcement was the unexpected information that some members of the congregation who had made investments partially through the minister's influence were about to lose. The indications are now that the result of the case will be to show that the minister was more sinned against than sinning, and that any seemingly unbecoming eagerness for gain was more the fault of those whom he trusted than his own.

JACKSONVILLE HIGH LOSES FAST GAME

DEFEATED BY MACQUIN COUNTY LADS 12 TO 0.

Locals Put Up Good Fight But Lost Ball on Fumbles When Near Goal—Band Accompanies Team and Rooters—Play Normal Next Saturday.

Jacksonville high school football team met defeat at the hands of Carlinville high Saturday afternoon at Carlinville by a score of 12 to 0. Jacksonville started the game in true football fashion and were going at full speed until Haigh, full back, while making a run fell in a hole, receiving an injury which made him retire. His loss seems to take a great deal of pep out of the Jacksonville men, although they came back strong in the last quarter and played Carlinville to a stand still.

The high school band and a number of rooters accompanied the team, besides Coach Hunter, Paul Morrison, Dale Boxell and Supt. C. E. Collins. The band played at Carlinville and after arriving at Jacksonville gave a concert after dinner and played at the game. The business men showed great appreciation for the interest Jacksonville manifested. In all it was one of the best behaved crowds that ever went from Jacksonville.

King and Ferguson played a splendid game for Jacksonville and Priest was in the game every minute. Morris, full back of Carlinville, is an exceptional fast man of the Kilbree type. Morrison who played right end for Carlinville was also a fast man.

In the first quarter Carlinville kicked to Jacksonville. Jacksonville worked the ball back to the 29 yard line when it was lost on a fumble. Carlinville returned the ball to the middle of the field. The ball remained in Jacksonville territory the rest of the quarter.

In the second quarter the ball on Jacksonville 30 yard line was advanced 10 yards by an end run. Hering executed a pretty pass to Ferguson which netted 30 yards. In the next play Jacksonville fumbled and the ball remained in Carlinville's territory the rest of the quarter.

The second half opened with Jacksonville receiving the ball. Homer Reynolds was thrown for a big loss. Carlinville got the ball on a fumble. After a succession of line bucks Morris went around the end for a touch down. Score 6 to 0. Carlinville kicked to Jacksonville and in the next play secured the ball when Jacksonville fumbled. Carlinville by straight football annexed another touch down when Sexton was shot over. Score 12 to 0.

The last quarter was a see-saw game with neither team making any gains of consequence.

Jacksonville plays Normal here next Saturday.

The lineup:
J. H. S. Position Carlinville
Reeve re Morrison
Robinson ri Denby
Arter lg Jolner
Sorrells c Seyfrid, Capt
King lg Haigman
Hering, Scott lt Wolfe
Ferguson pb Palmer
Homer Reynolds qb Sexton
Molohon, Priest, rbb Morris
Howard Reynolds lhb Brown
Haigh and Hering fb Arnett
Halves—12 minutes.
Touch downs—Morris, Sexton.
Officials—Referee, Morse (Carlinville); umpire, Fuller (Jacksonville).

EARL HARMON IS COACHING HIGH SCHOOL TEAM AT PALMYRA

Earl Harmon, a graduate of Illinois college last year, and a member of the football squad, is coaching the high school football team at Palmyra this season. He has a husky bunch of men to work with and has been busy the past few days grooming them down for the game yesterday against Staunton, which resulted in a score of 49 to 8 in favor of Palmyra. Staunton has trimmed Palmyra for the past two years in football. Staunton's quarterback is a big factor in the team. King who plays halfback on the Palmyra team is a bear cat and was one of the star players yesterday. He was the gentleman who won second place in the 160 dash at the big intercollegiate meet held here last year under the auspices of Illinois officers. Palmyra plays Fayette next Saturday the team that Jacksonville will meet here on Thanksgiving day.

JUST RECEIVED.

Party in Honor of Their Daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Thompson entertained a party of little folks at their home, 832 North Main street, Saturday afternoon in honor of the sixth birthday of their daughter, Mary Rachel. Various games were played and in the nut contest, the prize was won by Cecil Tendick. The decorations were in keeping with the birthday cake, lighted with six candles. Those who helped serve were Mrs. E. H. Thompson, Mrs. W. H. Arenz, Mrs. J. E. Young and Mrs. M. V. Thompson. Mary Rachel received a number of pretty presents and the children spent a most delightful time.

Those present were Theodore and Island Thompson, Pauline Henderson, Donald Neil, Aredia, Landis Young, Litterberry, Dorris and Ruth Robinson, Helen Becker, Dorothy, Jane and Robert Green, Hazel Yeck, Ethel Krasot, Henry and Thelma Arenz, Cecil and Bernice Tendick, Arthur Wright, Henderson and Mary Rachel Thompson.

A Pleasant Birthday Party for Children

Yesterday was the sixteenth anniversary of Mary Addison and so her mother decided to celebrate the event with a children's party at the pleasant family home in Grove street. The occasion in every way was a success and the youthful guests enjoyed it to the full. Among other games was one seeking the hidden candy hearts and in that Gladys Wintler won the first prize and Frances Hearn the consolation prize. Another amusing game was blindfolding each performer, place a jar on her head, give her a dish of peanuts and a spoon and see how many she could place in the jar. In this Blanche Wall won first and Louis Wintler the consolation.

A delicious two course luncheon was served and the favors to the children were lace baskets of candy. A birthday cake with sixteen candles adorned the table and made a fine appearance. Many handsome and useful presents were received by kindness which prompted the giving. Mary, who fully appreciated the gifts, was the guest of honor.

The guests were Dorothy and Blanche Wall, Mary Edith Baumgartner, Margaret F. Hopper, Caroline Doane, Frances Hearn, Amelia emalz, Gladys and Louise Wintler.

But give us the good old summer time.
For then we never sneeze.

Dispatches tell us that Greece has enough money to carry on a war for one month. The amount of money needed to pay the expenses of the Grecian army for a month would not be spending money for one day for the Kaiser.

Some time when excursions from other cities visit us it might be well to turn out the Jeffries band and show them what a good band is. Bloomington had a good band but there is no band in the world that can get just the swing on a march that Jeff's boys do.

This kind of weather reminds us that Mr. Egg Nog has become quite a stranger in these parts.

The fall house cleaning is in full force now and many men lose their tempers and their religion when their wives ask them to drive a nail or carry a rug out and beat it.

Bootlegging has developed into about as hazardous an occupation in Jacksonville as making moonshine whiskey is in the mountains of Tennessee.

Every office holder in the United States should be in sympathy with the government in the fight it has just started to dissolve the "Tin Can" trust. In fact it is probable most of them would like to stop the making of tin cans entirely then they would not have any hung on them when administrations change.

It looks funny to see the woman who went around last summer with a big feather boa around her neck appearing on these cold days with a low neck dress and no sign of furs to protect her. It may be the style but we would rather someone else would follow it.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT.

An entertainment will be given at the Knights of Columbus club at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, Oct. 12, in observance of the anniversary of the discovery of America. W. N. Brown, of Chicago, state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, will deliver the address of the evening and then a program of instrumental and vocal music will be given. There will be no admission fee and the public is cordially invited to attend.

TAKE A LOOK AT RESERVOIR.

Probably very few people have ever seen the inside of the storage reservoir on College hill. The reservoir is now empty for the first time in many years, and is really worth examining. The work of removing the mud from the bottom of the reservoir has only just started, so that a visit today will give an insight into its real condition.

DON'T SCOLD, MOTHER!

THE CROSS CHILD IS BILIOUS, FEVERISH

Look at Tongue! If Coated, Clean Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, and sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—Adv.

PRISON REFORM WILL BE TOPIC DISCUSSED

PREVENTION OF CRIME THEME OF OAKLAND CONVENTION.

Cause of Crime Lies Outside Criminal and Correctional Institution, Says Noted Penologist—Officials Will Attend from All Parts of Country.

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 9.—Officials of penal and correctional institutions from all parts of the country, judges and other officers of courts, social service workers and educators to the number of several hundred gathered here today for the opening of the annual convention of the American Prison Association. The sessions, several of which are to be held in the evenings, will last through Oct. 14.

Practically every phase of society's problem in dealing with the morally delinquent will be presented to the association by chosen speakers or in the form of reports from standing committees of the organization. The discussions are to embrace the positive or negative influences which, acting through heredity or environment, cause the downfall of the girl or boy offender of the first crime of the mature criminal; methods of eradicating these influences; the proper punishment of the persistent offender, how to rescue the recruit criminal, how to maintain discipline in penal institutions and when to pardon or pardon the inmates.

In these discussions the wardens or superintendents of state institutions are to play leading roles, the list of speakers including the following officials of state establishments:

T. P. Sale, Raleigh, N. C.; Katherine Bement Davis, New York; Amos W. Butler, Indianapolis; A. J. C. Wells, Frankfurt, Ky.; Guy C. Hanna, Plainfield, Ind.; R. H. Lindley, Chipewah Falls, Wis.; Kenosha Sessions, Indianapolis.

Special Reports Will Be Made. Special reports are to be made by the standing committees on prison discipline, probation and parole, statistics of crimes, and criminal law. Reports are also to be heard from the prison chaplains association, the women's association and the association of governing boards which are subsidiaries of the main organization.

Among the jurists who will take part in the convention are James P. Gregory, judge of the criminal court, Louisville, Ky., and J. E. Frick, a justice of the supreme court of Utah.

Joseph P. Byers, of Philadelphia, is president of the association and will preside over the general sessions.

To prevent crime, stop the production of criminals and abolish prisons were given as the final objects of Prison Reform in an address which Joseph B. Byers, of Philadelphia, president of the American Prison Association, delivered at the opening of the convention of the organization here today.

"The causes of crime lie outside our penal and correctional institutions," he said. "Just as boils on the body are indications of disorders in the blood, so are these institutions symptoms of disease in the body politics. Our prisons and reformatories are, if you please, hospitals for the care and treatment of those who through criminal conduct have shown symptoms of criminal character."

"But symptoms are good only for diagnosis. If we stop here we shall never effect a cure. We shall have to go on passing new laws and devising new penalties as long as we shut our eyes to the causes that make laws and penalties and institutions necessary. The causes of crime exist, for the most part, outside these institutions and it is on the outside that we must apply the real remedies."

The Feeble Minded and Crime.

President Byers discussed the extent to which feeble minded complicates the problem of crime prevention and stated that "the stronghold of crime in the United States is defended by a standing army or not less than 400,000." This figure, he explained, was obtained by an analysis of United States census figures for 1910 and he reached the conclusion that 12 per cent of the total are sub-normal mentally. He argued that feeble minded criminals should never be sentenced to imprisonment but committed to permanent custody in special institutions because the presence of such sub-normal persons in penitentiaries works harm both to them and to society.

"To submit them to the test of the 'honor system' or to apply to them the principle of 'self government' tends inevitably to discredit the one and make ridiculous the other," he added, and then pointed out that according to figures compiled in Massachusetts 57.6 per cent of the criminals in that state were "repeaters" and that this class along committed 91 per cent of the crimes for which punishment were inflicted.

President Byers reviewed the history of prison reform movements, pointing out particular in which he thought progress had been recorded. Of the shortcomings of the present system he said in part:

"We are still experimenting with prison labor with some fair hope that in the State Use Plan we have found a rational substitute for Contract Labor. We have proven beyond any question the prisoners may be so far and profitably employed outside the prison walls, but that this is not true of all prisoners."

"We have not yet recognized the principle of indemnification by the State for wrongful imprisonment."

"Our prison school systems, with a few notable exceptions, are systems largely in name only."

"We have gone all too slow in requiring parents to pay for the whole or partial support of their delinquent children.

"We are still guilty of the folly of punishing chronic misdoers by repeated short sentences."

After enumerating social influences working to prevent crime he suggested that a further step be the abolition of county jails and the substitution of houses of detention in each county but under state control. County jails he said had been "found guilty as unsanitary, immoral, medieval, crime breeders." In conclusion he said:

"We have been spending our efforts very largely to improve the physical and mental. Let us hope that we shall finally reach up and into the moral and spiritual, which is the final step in all our work, to re-create in man not only the image but the attributes of his Maker."

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES.

Miss Olive Fleider of Virginia, who is doing advanced violin work with Mrs. Day, was at the college Saturday for her lesson.

From Beardstown, Leslie Liscom was in the college Saturday to take his lesson on the clarinet from Mr. Jefferson, and Milton Angier, who studies violin with Mrs. Day, was also in the city Saturday for his work.

Chanderville is represented by Miss Leota Damarin, who has been a pupil of Mrs. Hartmann for several years.

Miss Helen Henry of Waverly, who is doing advanced violin work with Mrs. Day, was at the college Saturday for her lesson.

Miss Helen Merrill of Vermont, entered the college Saturday, taking up extensive work in music.

Miss Abigail Lazelle, who is on the high school faculty at Springfield, was in the city Saturday for her private work with Mr. Stearns.

Miss Rena Lazelle of the voice department was in Springfield Monday, where she has a large class in voice. Through an error last week in the notes it was stated that Miss Lazelle sang at the opening reception of the Springfield Woman's club.

The college orchestra meets regularly on Tuesday evening. A large number of the pupils and friends of the school are already in the organization. It is planned to give a concert later in the school year.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

Mrs. Belle Short Lambert has just presented to the college library six volumes of Appleton's Encyclopedia of American Biography.

Attention is again called to the celebration of Founder's Day. The public exercises will be held at ten o'clock Friday morning, Oct. 15th. Friday afternoon there will be a conference among the trustees and visitors and friends of the college, and on Friday night a concert will be given in music hall.

Rev. E. B. Houck, who is financial secretary of the college, is busy engaged in visiting the various conferences and making addresses in behalf of the school.

Thursday morning the birthday of James Whitcomb Riley was fittingly observed in the college chapel. Miss LaVina Jones read "An Old Sweetheart of Mine" and Miss Frances Smith read "Knee Keep in June."

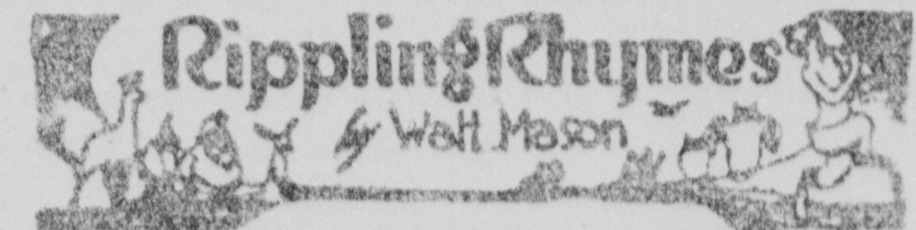

Director and Mrs. Stearns entertained for the faculty at their home, 825 West College avenue, Monday afternoon from 3 to 5. A delightful time was enjoyed and ample opportunity given for all the members of the faculty to get still better acquainted with each other.

Miss Lula D. Hay entertained for the faculty at her home, 1516 West Mound avenue, Thursday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30.

The Town Girls will have open house at the Strawn home on West State street Monday afternoon. This is the property recently acquired by the college through the generosity of Dr. David Strawn.

PUBLIC SALE.

Tuesday, Oct. 12, at 10 a. m., Mrs. Grace A. Negus will sell at her farm a mile west of Orleans, five high bred fillies and a yearling stallion, all by the famous horse Perolite; also four good horses and an all purpose team; three milch cows; two fine calves; a lot of cholera immune hogs of the celebrated Tamworth breed; a thoroughbred Duroc Jersey boar; also a lot of farm machinery and utensils.

THE SKILLED WORKMAN.

All admire the living wonder who's an expert at his trade, who is quick and skilled as thunder, with his jimmy, brush or blade. I have watched an earnest toiler, as he mends the pans and pots, puts new handles on the boiler, solders up the leaky spots; and he never wastes a motion, every move some purpose serves; and it is a balm and lotion to the soul to watch his curves. Oh, we meet so many tinkers who have only learned to fail, that all sane and soulful thinkers wonder why they're not in jail. I have watched the men who bunder, both things up with saw or spade, and I blessed the living wonder who has really learned his trade. If I had a hundred pieces, I would say to them, "My dears, if you wish to save the pieces, as you journey down the years, you will learn some stunt and do it, better than all other moids; locate knowledge and pursue it, till you're perfect in your trades. Stringing beans or paring apples, darning socks or skimming milk, winding clocks or scrubbing chapels, let your work be fine as silk."

PEACE CONGRESS OPENS AT BERKELEY TODAY

SESSIONS WILL CONTINUE IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Half a Dozen Nation-Wide Organizations that are Working for World Peace Will Co-Operate—Purposes of the Congress.

San Francisco, Oct. 9.—Half a dozen nation-wide organizations that are working for world peace will co-operate in holding an International Peace Congress in the Greek Theatre at Berkeley, tomorrow and continuing in San Francisco until Wednesday night. The congress is under the direct auspices of the Church Peace Union and the American Peace Society, and is assisted by The League to Enforce Peace, the American Peace Centenary Committee, the American League for Limitation of Armament, and the World's Insurance Congress, as well as the San Francisco Federated Peace Committee. The purposes of the congress are set forth:

"First—To bring together recognized leaders in public affairs from all nations, including representatives from all religious, educational, peace, legal, commercial, labor and socialistic organizations, in order to unite them into one great constructive organization to work for the abolition of war."

"Second—To present a program which, in its discussion and printed results, shall make such compelling impact upon world thought as speedily to hasten the overthrow of militarism."

"Third—To discuss up-to-date, practical plans for effective international cooperation in the substitution of Christian principles and just laws for the Rules of Force."

"To this end, we suggest these lines of discussion:

"1.—The extension of the principles of Conciliation and Arbitration to all International Disputes."

"2.—The formation of an International Peace League."

"3.—The organization of a World Court for the Judicial Settlement of International Difficulties."

"Fourth—To consider the problem of adequate National Protection."

The speakers at the opening meeting tomorrow will include Governor Hiram W. Johnson, President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California, Chancellor David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford Jr., University, Dr. Frederick Lynch, Secretary of the Church Peace Union, of New York, Dr. Matt S. Hughes, of Pasadena, Cal., and Dr. James A. McDonald, editor of the Daily Globe, Toronto, Can.

During the succeeding meetings, in San Francisco the speakers will include Senator Henri La Fontaine of Belgium, a holder of the Noble Peace Prize; John Mitchell, Labor Leader; Miss Eva Marshall Shontz, of Chicago, organizer of the Women's Peace Party; Dr. John Metz, of Munich, Germany, president of the International Student Federation; Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead, author of Boston; Walter Scott Penfield, lawyer of Washington, D. C.; Mirza Ali Kuli Khan, the Persian Charge d'Affaires at Washington, San Juan J. E. LeFevre, of Panama; and Herbert S. Houston of the League to Enforce Peace.

You may not need anything in our line now but will later. Please call that you may be posted. F. J. ANDREWS LUMBER CO.

NOTICE BY PUBLICATION.

To Phoebe Mueller: You are hereby notified there is pending in the Circuit Court of Morgan County, Illinois, on the Chancery side of the Docket, a Bill for Divorce, from you, as defendant by James Mueller, as complainant to the November Term, A. D. 1915, of said Court and that summons has been issued to you and James Mueller, Complainant, has filed an affidavit in this office that you can not be found, and that effort has been unavailing to locate you for years past.

You must appear on Monday, November 8th, 1915 at the Court House in Jacksonville, Morgan County, Illinois, either in person or by attorney, and plead, answer, or demur to the bill filed, or the same will be taken as confessed by you.

Chicago Specialist

In the treatment of Chronic Disease, will be at the Dunlap Hotel, Jacksonville, Illinois, Wednesday, Oct. 13, 1915, one day only. (Returns every 28 days). Hours, 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Fourteenth Successful Year in Jacksonville. Consultation and Examination Free

I treat successfully the cases I undertake and accept no fee from those who are incurable. That is why I continue my visits year after year, while other specialists make only a few visits and cease to return.

IS THIS THE WAY YOU FEEL? Tired in the morning and easily excited? Are you dizzy or nervous? Pain in the head? Tongue coated? Have you Catarrh—nose stopped up? Gas on the stomach? Hands and feet cold? Pain of hands and feet? Have you a pain, dragging pain or ache of the body, back or limbs? Have you Rheumatism? Have you Flatulency? Piles—itching or lame or weak back, pains in back or limbs? Have you any blood disease—scrofula, skin eruptions, pimples, bone pains, pale complexion and losing weight?

Invite you to call and investigate the Carson System of treatment of Chronic Diseases, which I have perfected after fifteen years of experience and study, and you will be convinced that my modern, up to date methods of curing disease are what you need.

Never before has there been a treatment giving such universal satisfaction. Every sufferer is cordially invited to call and secure full details concerning this new treatment free of charge.

REMEMBER DATE OF VISIT. Come early as parlors are always crowded. A friendly call may save you future suffering. It may make life anew to thousands who had been pronounced beyond hope.

C. W. CARSON, M. D., 766 Oakwood Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

Experience makes perfect. Having treated hundreds of old chronic stomach troubles for the last fifteen years, I can relieve a great majority of these cases and restore them to health and strength again, especially in those cases who suffer from the effects of pain in the stomach and bowels, bloating, gas, spitting up of food, sour stomach, headache, dizziness, loss of appetite, drowsiness, and heavy, bad feeling in the head.

PILES—Every case guaranteed cured without detention from business or use of knife.

Private Diseases a Specialty!

Best Treatment for Catarrh S. S. S. Removes the Cause

Specialists in Catarrh troubles have agreed that it is an infection of the blood. The laboratories of the S. S. S. Co., at Atlanta, have proven it. Once you get your blood free from impurities—cleansed of the Catarrh poisons, which it is now a prey to because of its unhealthy state—then you will be relieved of Catarrh—the dripping in the throat, hawking and spitting, raw sores in the nostrils, and the disagreeable bad breath. It was caused, in the first place, because your impoverished blood was easily infected. Possibly a slight cold or contact with someone who had a cold. But the point is—don't suffer with Catarrh—it is not necessary. The remedy S. S. S. discovered over fifty years ago, tested, true and tried, is always obtainable at any drug store. It has proven its value in thousands of cases. It will do so in your case. Get S. S. S. at once and begin treatment. If yours is a long standing case, be sure to write the S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga., for free expert medical advice. They will tell you how this purely vegetable blood tonic cleanses the impurities from the blood by literally washing it clean. They will prove to you that thousands of sufferers from Catarrh, after consistent treatment with S. S. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—The breaks of the game favored Boston today and tonight the champions of the American league and the Philadelphia pennant-bearers of the National circuit were on their way to Boston with the honors of the 1915 world's series all at once.

President Woodrow Wilson and his fiancée, Mrs. Norman Galt, shared the honors of the second contest with a steadily built young Boston pitcher known to baseball fame as George Foster. Foster may never go down in history as an Alexander, a Walter Johnson or a Christy Mathewson, but when the story of the second battle of the current series is filed away in the archives of the national pastime it will be found that all he did today was to hold the fighting Phillies to three hits, to strike out eight of their best welders of the willow, to make as many hits himself as he allowed the entire opposition, including a sizzling smash in the ninth that sent Gardner across the plate with the winning Boston run. In addition to these few meager activities, young Foster sped to first base a couple of times and took throws from his fellow fielders that turned two seeming errors into sensational outs.

Wilson and Foster Heroes of Day.—Mr. Foster on the field and Mr. Wilson in the stand were indeed the heroes of the day. Foster won by 2 to 1. The president had a wider margin for the more than 20,000 baseball enthusiasts crowded in the friendly little Philly park were on their feet for and with Mr. Wilson time after time. They greeted him with cheers when he came and forgot the sting of defeat to send him on his way to Washington with shouts that echoed for blocks around. Mrs. Galt was greatly admired by the baseball throngs and was smilingly happy over the attentions showered upon her.

The president rooted royally for the home team. When the signal for "all up" came in the supposedly hostile seventh inning Mr. Wilson was among the first on his feet. But when the tumult and the shouting died the Philly cause had not been bettered for Foster in this frame turned back the first three men to face him. In the last half of the ninth, when the Phillies' plight was desperate a band in the grand stand began to play "The Star Spangled Banner." Mr. Wilson caught the first strains of the national anthem and again was on his feet followed by the entire crowd. The bleachers in the far field stanzas heard the music, too, and joined the standing throng with hats in hand. The scene was one of genuine dramatic tension. But it was not written in the book of baseball that the Phillies should win today so neither the patriotic presence of the president nor the appealing influence of the latest "White House romance" could help them to a victory.

Play Real Baseball.—It was real baseball today from the moment that Hooper, the first man up, was passed on four and balls until Tris Speaker, one of the greatest outer gardeners the game has ever known, entered the contest by reaching into the center field bleachers to snare a bullet-like drive from Paskert's bat and turn a potential home run into a meteoric out, thereby saving for Mr. Foster his well-earned ball game.

The play was sharp and brilliant; through all the innings, as different from the somewhat satirical-hued contest of yesterday as world series games should differ from the battles on the sand lots. The field was fair and the players of both teams seemed to have found themselves. The nervousness of yesterday had disappeared and there was not a semblance of the lack of thought that gave an ivory titch to some of the episodes of the start of the series. There was little to choose today between the teams in the field. The only error was charged to Catcher Burns, of the Phillies, who dropped a difficult throw from second and thereby allowed Hooper to score in the first.

Rooters Applaud Generously.—There was also a wonderful difference in the effect of today's play upon the crowd. Yesterday there was a lack of excitement which kept the throng in an attitude of indifference most of the time, whereas today the faithful followers of the Phillies were constantly swept off their feet by some of the wonderful fielding feats. The rooters aggressively followed each play and at times their applause was almost as generously bestowed upon a visiting player as upon the heroes of the home team. Gardner and Speaker and Foster of the Red Sox and Bancroft, Whitted and Stock of the Phillies seemed to be all over the playing field when their presence was most sorely needed and their flashing plays brought spontaneous response from the spectators banded in stands and bleachers.

Mayer Pitches Good Game.—Manager Pat Moran of the Phillies placed his faith today in Erskine Mayer, the longated underhand flinger from Atlanta, Ga., who pitched a far better game than is shown by the detailed score. Although he allowed more than three times the number of hits registered off Foster he was seldom in real difficulty and kept the fence wreckers of the Red Sox crew batting pop flies most of the way.

Foster promises now to be the lasting hero of the series, getting away today with an average of 7.50 in four times up. When he first faced the puzzling underhand delivery of Mayer the Boston pitcher ignominiously whiffed but the next time he danced to the plate he landed on a fast one and slammed it high up against the right field wall for the first extra base hit of the series. He was left stranded.

In the seventh Foster shot a single to center and again his teammates could not send him across, despite the use of two pinch hitters. Foster evidently got tired of depending on the other eight athletes wearing the Boston uniform to help him home, so in the ninth, with Gardner on second and the score a tie, he decided to break up a perfectly pleasant game of ball which threatened to go to extra innings. He slammed a long single to right center and cantered to second when Paskert made a futile effort to cut off the winning run at the plate.

Hard Hitting on Both Sides.—It was a hard hitting game on both sides. The Sox got the breaks and their drives went safe. The Philly batters hit ball after ball with a smashing force that ordinarily would land them in the base hit column of the box score. But today the drives went within reach of the fast Boston outfield and the local players were turned back to their bench.

In the fifth inning it seemed that the Philadelphia players were going to bat out a victory. "Gavy" Cravath who could not get hold of the ball yesterday at all, laid into one in the fifth and sent it whistling down the left field foul line for a double. Luderus sent another double to deep center and Cravath ambled home.

The crowd was on its feet yelling like mad for a second victory in the series seemed almost certain and the Boston players plainly were nervous. The crowd shouted and howled for Whitted to bring "Lud" home. The best Whitted could do, however, was an infield out which advanced Luderus to third. With only one out Niehoff caught a fly one square on his bat and the fans roared as it sped away on a line to smash with a "zip" into the mitt of Boston's big guardian of the first bag, Hoblitzel. This play took all the steam from the Phillies' attack and Burns dashed the last fading hopes of the fans on the rocks by swinging wildly at three fast curves.

Mayer justified the confidence of Pat Moran in putting him forward as the second line of defense of the mighty Alexander despite the fact that the game went against him. Mayer was cool and calm at all times and between the first and ninth innings he held the Boston attack well in hand. He struck out seven men and allowed but two bases on balls, both of these going to Hooper.

Rigler Did Not Please Phillies.—Umpire Rigler did not please the locals by some of his decisions on balls and strikes. This was particularly true when he called Bancroft out on the third one in the ninth. Just prior to this Rigler would not let Stock take first when it seemed the ball had hit him on the elbow. The fact that President Wilson and Mrs. Galt were to witness today's game gave an unusual air of excitement to the preliminaries at the ball park. The decorators were out early and had the presidential box aglow with the national and city colors. The crowd came early too, all anxious to see the president, of course, but just a little more anxious to see his fiancée.

It was just after 2 o'clock, time for play to be called, that a shout outside the park gave the signal that the president was at hand. A few minutes later he entered. Mrs. Galt just behind him. As they started for their seats, however, the president asked Mrs. Galt to precede him. Looking remarkably handsome and glowing with happiness, Mrs. Galt was recognized by the crowd and joined the president in acknowledging the tribute of the throng.

After reaching their places in the stand Mr. Wilson and his fiancée graciously consented to pose for the photographers and the game was delayed several minutes.

Burns' Error Excusable.—Both teams gave an exhibition of real world's series baseball today and left nothing to be desired. The only error of the game, charged against Catcher Burns, was an excusable one. The two infields and outfields were faster than in the opening struggle, due to the firm sure footing for the ground ball. The Phillies' defense was dried out thoroughly and there was little chance of the slip-ups which marred several of the plays Friday. Foster used a terrific speed at times and the ball was upon the batters before they had time to gauge the direction of the break. He mixed his delivery up well. He seldom sent the ball over the heart of the plate but worked the corners continually.

Although he faltered for the moment in the fifth inning when Cravath and Luderus doubled in succession, Foster regained control quickly and finished the inning by fanning Burns. These two doubles and Bancroft's single in the sixth were the only hits made by the Philadelphia batters during the game and in these two innings they had three runners on the bags, only one of whom scored.

On the other hand, Manager Moran's boxman used a greater change of pace and wider curves but he did not possess the speed or jump of Foster and the Boston batters had more time in which to look over his offerings before deciding to strike or let the ball pass.

First Inning.—First Half—Hooper walked, Scott fouled out to Luderus. Speaker sent a terrific liner to left for a base. Hooper went to third. Speaker was out stealing second. Burns to Niehoff. Hooper scored when Burns dropped the throw in. Hoblitzel singled to center. Hoblitzel out stealing second. Burns to Niehoff. One run, two hits and one error.

Second Half—Scott threw out Stock at first. Bancroft fanned. Paskert was out. Hoblitzel, Barry to Hoblitzel. The ball bounced off of Hoblitzel's shin. No runs, no hits and no errors.

Second Inning.—First Half—Lewis fanned. Gardner singled over Bancroft's head. Barry struck out. Mayer threw out Thomas. No runs, one hit and no errors.

Second Half—Cravath struck out. Luderus also struck out. Scott threw out Whitted at first. No hits, no runs and no errors.

Third Inning.—First Half—Foster struck out. Hooper fanned. Scott fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Half—Niehoff fanned. Burns out Hoblitzel to Foster. Mayer struck out. No runs, no hits and no errors.

Fourth Inning.—First Half—Speaker out. Hoblitzel out on fly to Whitted. No runs, one hit and no errors.

Second Half—Stock out on a short fly to Speaker after a hard run. Bancroft went out. Hoblitzel to Foster. Paskert out on a long fly to Hooper. Not a hit had been made off of Foster. No runs, no hits and no errors.

Fifth Inning.—First Half—Barry out. Stock to Luderus. Thomas went out. Stock to Luderus. Foster hit double against the right field fence. It was the first extra base hit of the series. Hooper walked. Scott fled to Whitted. No runs, one hit and no errors.

Fifth Inning—Cravath doubled to left and the crowd howled. First hit of the game for Philadelphia. Cravath scored on Luderus' double to right center. Whitted out. Scott to Hoblitzel. Luderus went to third on the out. Niehoff lined to Hoblitzel. Burns fanned. One run, two hits and no errors.

Sixth Inning.—First half—Speaker popped out to Bancroft. Hoblitzel fled out to Niehoff. Lewis hit on a wide curve and fanned. No runs, no hits and no errors.

Second Half—Barry tossed out Mayer. Barry tossed out Stock. Bancroft singled to right center. Speaker made a play and almost nipped Bancroft at first when he overran the bag. Gardner threw out Paskert. No runs, one hit and no errors.

Seventh Inning.—First Half—Gardner fled out to Whitted. Thomas forced Barry at second. Mayer to Bancroft. Foster singled to left. Thomas going to second. Janvria ran for Thomas. Hooper scratched an infield hit filling the bases. Henriksen batted for Scott. Henriksen popped out to Luderus. No runs, three hits and no errors.

Second Half—Cady went into catch for Thomas. Janvria took Scott's place at short. Cravath fanned on three pitched balls. Luderus fled out to Hooper. Whitted fouled out to Cady. No runs, no hits and no errors.

Eighth Inning.—First Half—Speaker out to Luderus. Hoblitzel fled out to Cravath. Bancroft threw out Lewis at first. Bancroft speared the ball with his gloved hand as it was binding over second, then made a line throw to Luderus. No runs, no hits, and no errors.

Second Half—Gardner threw out Niehoff on a brilliant play. Burns popped up to Janvria. Mayer flies to Speaker. No runs, no hits and no errors.

Ninth Inning.—First Half—Gardner singled to left. Barry fled to Paskert. Janvria out Mayer to Luderus on a slow play. Gardner went to second. Gardner scored on Foster's single to center and Foster took second on the throw in. Hooper fanned. One run, two hits and no errors.

Second Half—Stock protested the strike, claiming the ball hit him. Stock fled out to Lewis. Bancroft fanned. Paskert fled to Speaker. No runs, no hits and no errors. Final Boston 2, Philadelphia 1.

Statement About His

PRAISES TANLAC.

Among the many statements which are daily being made in regard to Tanlac, and the merits of this new preparation, which is now being introduced in Jacksonville, none is more interesting than that of W. J. Walsh, Jr., who is traveling representative in several of the central states for the J. B. Williams Co. of Glastonbury, Conn., who manufactures the popular toilet articles of that name. Mr. Walsh has headquarters at 501 Victoria building, St. Louis, Mo., and is well known among the trade in this territory. In regard to his recent improvement in health he said:

"This road work is no snap when it comes to eating and sleeping. It has certainly ruined my stomach and I don't know how sick I would have been if I had not taken Tanlac. Before I heard of this medicine, or rather before I began taking it, my whole system was out of order. I felt tired and worn out all the time and I could not sleep at night. My digestion was poor and I was almost always constipated. As soon as I would eat anything in the way of a big meal my stomach would fill with gas and I would be most uncomfortable for some time afterwards. My mind was full and my memory poor. In this unendurable condition I contracted colds easily and though I tried a number of remedies nothing seemed to help me."

"I was passing through a town in Kentucky about two weeks ago and saw this Tanlac advertised. I got a bottle and began taking it. I am glad I did for Tanlac has proven a wonderful remedy in my case. My ambition has returned as well as my strength and energy. I now sleep all night and get up in the morning feeling cheerful and ready for work. I have a fine appetite and relish everything I eat. I am a well man and I hope Tanlac will do as much for others as it has for me."

Tanlac, the "Master Medicine," is now being sold in Jacksonville at the drug store of Coover & Shreve. Advertisement.

DR. BAKER REVIEWED TYPHOID EPIDEMIC IN MENARD COUNTY

CAUSE OF TROUBLE WAS TRACED TO THREE WELLS DUG ON BANKS OF SANGAMON.

Two Hundred Cases Were Attributed to This Impure Water Supply—Physician Not Best Health Officer.

At the luncheon given by the Medical club Saturday night for Dr. E. F. Baker, a paper was presented by Dr. E. F. Baker who discussed the typhoid fever situation in Menard county. Dr. Baker spent some time there as a representative of the state board of health. In addition to his remarks about the Menard county situation Dr. Baker discussed several problems of public health and he was heard with special interest because of his long experience in dealing with these problems as a board representative. He said in part:

The typhoid epidemic at Petersburg was caused by contaminated water from three wells, dug on the banks of the Sangamon river within the Chautauqua grounds—open wells, walled with brick in the ordinary way, all connected up together with pipes and the water of all three pumped up into a large galvanized iron tank on the highest hill in the grounds, and from this tank piped all over the grounds, to all the cottages, hotel and public buildings, and many drinking faucets on pipes at various places within the grounds. The only water to be had was this public supply from the tank on the hill, all obtained from the three wells on the bank of the river which skirts the grounds. Floods caused the river to overflow, flowing directly in at the top of the wells. This overflow occurred five or six days before the close of the Chautauqua. No other water being available, it was used.

We traced and know of about two hundred cases of typhoid from persons who were either campers or visitors on these grounds. The location of the wells and their open top was a most flagrant piece of negligence on the part of those having this matter in charge. About seventy-five of these typhoid cases were located in Petersburg, the rest in Menard, Cass, Peoria, Macon, Morgan, Sangamon, and Logan counties, and some were stricken after traveling as far as California. There were some cases of severe illness that were not typhoid but had cholera symptoms, severe and exhausting diarrhea and dilute sewage. Seven deaths occurred before I left and several more were very low. For financial and other reasons some of the directors of the Chautauqua sought very strenuously for other causes than the water to account of the outbreak.

Followed Every Cue.
The State Board of health representatives followed every clue to ascertain the cause or causes and were forced to the conclusion that no other cause exists that would account for the sudden outbreak, a large number coming down almost simultaneously, with no history of previous cases existing in the neighborhood. Many Widat tests were made, with many negative results. No untoward symptoms from the use of the anti-typhoid serum except one—a prominent attorney and judge of Menard county, a very marked and severe reaction following the injection of the serum. His case was a puzzle for the doctors for two weeks, very severe pain at seat of injection, extending over chest and arms, and also watery blisters appeared over the back and shoulders. The judge told me he was in perfect health and had been for twenty years until the evening he took the first injection of anti-typhoid serum. He said he had never suffered more sharp, lancinating pains in the arms, shoulders and chest. He had a fever of 102 at the highest, ranging 99 to 100 for the last week of the two weeks of his illness. The question arises, "Was he infected with typhoid before the serum was administered, and did the typhoid infection cause his symptoms, or were his symptoms due to the serum injection?" Authorities give records of severe reactions, in perhaps a few cases with the marked symptoms of this judge. Several hundred persons were treated with the anti-typhoid serum but no other case developed anything similar to this case of the judge.

There was a general clean-up insisted upon by the State Board of Health. We treated all privy vaults in the city with crude petroleum as a repellent of flies, as I told them, to prevent the flies taking dinner in the vaults and taking supper with the people. Swatting the fly was very general and besides prophylaxis was insisted upon to prevent the spread of the epidemic. The outlook seems fair at Petersburg for there being a minimum number of secondary cases, and the engineers of the State Board of Health are still at Petersburg suggesting an improved scheme for their water system, as well as some sewage disposal plans for the city of Petersburg, and also that the city water supply of Petersburg may be guaranteed against any danger from the river in the future. The water supply of the city of Petersburg was not contaminated, and though frequently examined, was pronounced wholesome. The Chautauqua grounds being located about two miles from the city, were dependent wholly upon their own improvised water system.

The Health Officer and Physician.
An efficient health officer need not be a practicing physician—in fact, he is more efficient if he is not a practicing physician. The double personality and double duties impair his sonality as a health officer. All the medical knowledge required by the health officer in the performance of his duties in the average city or town, or even the largest cities of the country, may be easily acquired by the right man in a short time. His duties are police duties, restricted to matters alone that concern the health of the people, such as contagious, infectious, and nuisances which will affect the public health the garbage and its disposal; impure foods, methods of handling foods such as milk, meat, bread and also the source from which all food supplies are derived, and methods of handling; water supply and contamination, quarantine, disinfection, etc. The duties of the health officer continue seven days in the week. He should be always on the job. In distinction from the functions of a health officer, the physician has a license or permit from the state to minister to the sick; the health officer has a command from the state to safeguard the health interests of all people, both sick and well. The health officer may command and enforce obedience of his orders from physicians, but physicians cannot demand obedience from health officers. Physicians have no control over quarantine or disinfection, in fact, are not health officers in any sense, and cannot establish or discontinue quarantine. Physicians are required by law to report to the health officer all facts in a case of contagious or infectious disease. If there be doubt as to the true nature of the disease, the health officer has the right and the power and the duty to develop the facts as expeditiously as possible so he may act intelligently. The state has provided experts to visit such cases and also laboratory tests and examinations to develop all the facts in doubtful cases at no cost to physicians or patient. While cordial co-operation between attending physician and health officer is much to be desired, the attending physician must not hinder or delay the speedy development of all facts as to the true nature of the ailment, so the health officer may act intelligently. The health officer is the guard on watch between danger and the people. The doctor may take in his shoulders the duties and perplexities of the health officer, but he courts trouble and is apt to find the role of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde a difficult one because he soon finds the chief duties of the health officer are for Mr. Hyde and not Dr. Jekyll. He will seldom need to consult the medical side of his double personality. Besides, Mr. Hyde may get the same information of any other physician, and he is apt to be unhappy in the work of health officer by assuming the duties of physician and health officer. The public has been educated—and the profession also—to regard it as necessary that the health officer should not be a physician, and in our own city ordinances it is required that the health warden shall be a duly licensed physician. From several years' experience and close touch with health officers in nearly all the cities of the state, I am led to the belief that the man who has the practical executive duties of a health officer should be selected not from the practicing physicians of the city but from the laity; with a board of health back of him composed largely of physicians. I would rather have such a man as Jerry Sweeney, night police; Anthony Ferguson, or John Minter, or a dozen others from this city, than I could name, than any doctor health officer this city has had in the last twenty-five years. The physician, as a health officer is handicapped. He has a code of ethics of physicians to observe as a physician. Under the dictates of this code he may not call upon or inquire into the illness of the patient of another physician. As health officer it is his duty to inquire into the nature of cases that may be required to be quarantined. The officer doctor will be very tactful, indeed, if he does not excite suspicion of his conduct by the attending physician, leading to much unnecessary feeling. Moreover, some of the duties of the health officer, such as inspecting pig-pens, garbage cans, nuisances, and slothful and dirty methods of handling foodstuffs, in work that is out of harmony with the dignity and bearing and general character of the doctor in his daily ministrations among the sick. An angel of light in the sick room, and is incongruous. A busy practitioner a stern officer of the law in the next makes a poor executive of health laws. A board of health, the majority of whom shall be physicians to give directions on questions of general policy and matters of importance affecting the city's interests, with an executive officer, preferably not a physician. The rule over the state has gained footing that the health officer should be chosen from the active practitioners of the town. I think the service would be improved by a reversal of this method.

The First Case.
The Chautauqua closed the 25th day of August. The first week of September, cases of typhoid began to develop—more and more cases up to the middle of September. The city and county boards of health became alarmed and appealed to the state board of health, to take charge of the situation. I was ordered to Petersburg, together with the chief sanitary engineer, Mr. Paul Hansen, and his assistant engineer, Mr. Ferguson. Dr. Sargent, bacteriologist of the State Board, and Mr. Cooney, Dairy Inspector.
My first inquiry was to know of Rev. J. W. Johnson, president of the association. If the grounds were still open and the water available to any persons visiting the grounds. He said yes, there were two families still living on the grounds, family of the custodian of seven, and a family of three still camping on the grounds, making ten persons still using the water. I ordered the pumps dismantled and tank emptied. Two and one of this family of campers members of the custodian's family developed typhoid. The dairy inspector visited all families reporting typhoid and prohibited all milk sales, except the family and dairy were separated. The dairy inspector will remain to see to it that quarantining was maintained at all dairies and producers of milk.

The funeral services of Clara Ruth Griffin will be held from the residence of James Ball, 803 South Church street, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. Percy W. Stephens.

ACIDS IN STOMACH SOUR THE FOOD AND CAUSE INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" Fixes Sour Gassy, Upset Stomachs in Five Minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapiesin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many Pape's Diapiesin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

The Official Edict

Dad's to be "Dolled Up" and our company has been named as the Fathers' Official Tailor.

Ladies, read carefully the following story, then send the Fathers to us for the stylish weaves, correct cut and best made garments

"Father is to be one of the regular guys this fall. He will not have to be sent to the kitchen when society folks make a call. No siree, dad's going to be all dolled up by tailors and haberdashers and be one of 'the white folks.'"

"Dealers in men's togs have decided, following the edict of Chicago and New York tailors, that dad shall be dressed so that his wife and daughters will be proud of him, even on occasions when there are no bills to be met by him.

PROPER CLOTHES FOR DAD.

"That truth is stranger than fiction is shown in the attention that has been given that socially invisible hermit, the American father. Dad will not be permitted to wear dowdy clothes, so the edict goes, or spend his time in bed. There are to be no dowdy clothes this fall. Though a man, even be middle aged and conservative, may pine for a nice shapeliness, comfortable suit with baggy knees and creases, he will search in vain.

"The styles this fall will conform somewhat to the figure. Nothing will be padded except actors' clothes, payrolls and the expense account. The loose sack effect has been entirely displaced and what is considered a happy medium has been found between the baggy suit and the corset-like effect in vogue the past summer. The coats are longer. The lapels are the needle point, with soft roll and the trousers reveal the lines of the leg, although not too tight.

THE COLORS.

"Green, grays and the heather mixtures will predominate, it is asserted. Heather mixtures, it is explained, include a combination of red and lavender on a background of green, bottle green, brown, bronze or tan. And it is asserted that form-fitting overcoats will predominate. Even if age is creeping upon Dad, he just has to doll up and don the clothes selected for him and cut along the new lines by the high priests of fashion."

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO BLANKS NORTHWESTERN

MARIONS ARE HELD TO A SINGLE TOUCHDOWN.

Series of Trick Plays Sends Agar Across in the Last Quarter—Illinois Defeats Rolla. 75 to 7—Princeton Downs Syracuse.

Northwestern Field, Evanston, Ill., Oct. 9.—The rejuvenated eleven of Northwestern university could not score on the University of Chicago today but did hold the visitors to a single touchdown. Chicago had the ball within a yard of Northwestern's goal in the first quarter but lost it. A series of trick plays sent Agar across in the last quarter for the lone touchdown.

The line-up:
Chicago. Position. N'western
Whiting. McCurdy
Schull. Grasset
Scannon. Steinbrenner
Fisher. Strenberg
Dobson. Ulrich
Jackson. Randolph
Sparks. Norman
Russell. Underhill
Agar. Driscoll
Brelak. Williams
Flood. Patterson
Referee—Birch, Earlham. Umpire—Benbrook, Michigan. Head Linesman—Hammond, Michigan. Field Judge—Schommer, Chicago. Touchdown—Chicago (Agar) 1. Goal from touchdown—Schaffer. Substitutions: Northwestern—Smith for Stromberg; Strickler for Underhill; Crane for McCurdy. For Chicago—Brodie for Dobson; Norgren for Brodies; Schaffer for Flood; Larson for Scannon; Pershing for Norgren; Patterson for Whiting; Foster for Patterson; Knipschild for Agar.

Illinois, 75; Rolla, 7.
Champaign, Ill., Oct. 9.—Illinois won its second game of the season today defeating the football team from the Rolla school of Mines by the overwhelming score of 75 to 7. Imley, the star of the visiting team, saved Rolla from a shut out by a run of ninety-three yards for a touchdown. Macomber and Clark won glory for Illinois. Only once did Macomber miss a goal after touchdown but of his seven attempts at field goals only two succeeded. After one minute to play Clark caught the ball on a punt and ran seventy yards for a touchdown.

Princeton, 3; Syracuse, 0.
Princeton, N. J., Oct. 9.—Princeton defeated Syracuse here today by a score of 3 to 0. Shortly after the beginning of the third quarter Tibbott kicked a field goal from the 32 yard line. Syracuse threatened Princeton's goal line twice but once an intercepted forward pass and a blocked attempt at a placement kick repelled them.

The visitors were stronger than was anticipated but Princeton's defense had suffered. Forward passing marked the game.

Harvard, 29; Carlisle, 7.
Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 9.—Harvard scored a comparatively easy victory over the Carlisle Indians today, rolling up 29 points in three periods on fast work by the backs. In the third period, with a number of substitutes in the Crimson line, the Indians rushed the ball 80 yards, on long forward passes and line plunges, for their only score. The final score was 29 to 7. The most spectacular play of the game was when McKilloch intercepted a forward pass in the second period and ran 70 yards for a touchdown. The first Harvard eleven had no difficulty in holding the Indians on their side of the field in the first two periods.

Dartmouth, 20; Tufts, 7.
Hanover, N. H., Oct. 9.—Dartmouth college defeated Tufts today 20 to 7. The visitors used the shoe-string formation and many forward passes most of which were successful. Their touchdown in the second quarter was the result of trick shift. Dartmouth's gains were made largely by straight football.

Minnesota, 34; Ames, 6.
Minneapolis, Oct. 9.—Brilliant forward passes featured the University of Minnesota's 34 to 6 victory over Ames at Northrop Field today. It was the Minnesota's first real test of strength and their performance seemed to fully satisfy their adherents.

Near the end of the second period Sloss on a forward pass from the middle of the field, carried the ball to Minnesota's four yard line, where Quist downed him. On the third attempt carried it over for Ames' only score.

Army, 22; Gettysburg, 0.
West Point, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The army won from Gettysburg today 22 to 0. The visitors presented a strong line that held back the army's attack time and again but they failed to cope with a bewildering repertoire of forward pass plays by the Cadets. Keenness in following the ball also counted in the army's favor. Ollphant once getting the oval after Parker had blocked a punt and running for a touchdown. Later Mitchell intercepted a forward pass and ran half the length of the field for the score.

Ollphant scored 16 of the army's 22 points. His score in the last quarter on a pass of 45 yards from Merrill was a feature. McDew's play at center was gilt-edge and Ford's running in the open was exceptional. Washington U., 13; Missouri U., 0.
St. Louis, Oct. 9.—The University of Missouri lost its first conference gridiron game of the season here today, being defeated 13 to 0 by Washington University's eleven.

Yale, 7; Lehigh, 0.
New Haven, Oct. 9.—Yale defeated the powerful Lehigh eleven today 7 to 0 in one of the most bitterly contested football games seen here in years. The visitors' scores came through two field goals by Cahill. Yale scored a touchdown in the third period by a series of terrific line plunges by Scovill and Wilson. With the ball on the one yard line Lezore took Scovill's place and scored a touchdown. Cahill tried another drop kick in the last quarter but White blocked the ball. Lehigh gained ground almost at will by brilliant forward passing and long end runs.

Chenoweth of Lehigh fractured his ankle in a scrimmage. Several Yale players left the game on account of injuries.

CONSERVATORY NOTES.

Mr. Munger has placed the date of his annual piano recital on Thursday, October 21st. It will be given, as usual, in Northminster church. Owing to a delay in receiving the music, the Chorus, which met for the first time last Monday evening, held no rehearsal. The scores of Massenet's "Eve" have now arrived and work will be begun on it next Monday evening.

At the first rehearsal of the Conservatory Orchestra under Mr. Kritchlag, Thursday evening, the Schubert "Unfinished" Symphony and a Minuet by Bolzoni were played. The next rehearsal will take place Wednesday evening, October 13th, at seven.

Mr. Dean Cochran played, to the piano accompaniment of Miss Ruth Duncan, a Melodie of Tschalkowsky at the College Chapel service last Tuesday morning.

Miss Marguerite Butler will sing some songs at the K. C. meeting next Tuesday evening, October 12th, a violin obligato being played by Minnie Hoffman and the piano accompaniment by Lillian Loneragan.

Carrie Mackness played several violin selections at the Johnson-Finley wedding last Wednesday evening, October 6th.

SOX BLANK CUBS IN FOURTH GAME

JOHN COLLINS PROVES HERO OF THE DAY.

Sox Initial Sack Guardian Clouts a Homer in the Third Inning With the Bases Full After Vaughn Had Walked a Man and Forced a Run Across Plate.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—The Chicago Americans shut out the local Nationals, 5 to 0, today.

John Collins proved to be the hero of the day. He clouted a home run to left with the bases filled in the third, just after Vaughn had walked a man and forced a run across the plate.

Murphy started the undoing of Vaughn by beating out a bunt. Weaver sacrificed and Eddie Collins walked. Felsch was hit by a pitched ball and Vaughn was unable to locate the plate. He walked Jackson and forced Murphy with the first run. The big Cub pitcher then grooved one to John Collins who drove the sphere to the left field fence for a homer, clearing the bases and giving the American leaguers a lead of five runs which the Cubs could not overcome. Adams succeeded aughn. Jim Scott gave his opponents but four scattered hits and did not allow a man to reach second base. He did not issue a pass and struck out seven men. Scott was aided in his work by the sensational fielding of Weaver, E. Collins and J. Collins.

The total paid attendance was 11,963; receipts $8,781.25; national commission's share $878.12; players' pool $4,741.87 and each club's share was $1,585.63.

The players' pool amounts to $15,513.75. This amount will be divided 60 per cent to the winners and 40 per cent to the losers.

CAPPS' WEEK

At Tomlinson's Store

SPECIAL DISPLAY OF THIS FAMOUS LINE OF MEN'S AND YOUNG MEN'S CLOTHING.
Featured by a special exhibit showing processes of the Clothing industry.

This is a big week with us. Not only are we displaying an unusually large and interesting exhibit of the new fall styles in Suits and Overcoats, bearing the brand—

CAPPS CLOTHES—100% Pure Wool

But we also have for your pleasure a splendid exhibit of new things in Neckwear, Shirts, Hosiery, etc. One of the special features from an interest standpoint, and of special moment to those interested in the manufacturing industry, is a special exhibit prepared for us by the manufacturers, J. Capps & Sons, Ltd.

This is a large display portfolio in six panels showing a few of the important processes in the manufacture of clothes, beginning with the raw unwashed wool, and carrying it through to a reproduction of the finished garments, which are really carried from the portfolio to our own actual displays. Not only are these shown in large interesting pictures, but there are also samples of the "wool in the grease," the wool after being washed and dyed, the first processes of making yarn and the finished yarn as it is woven.

It also shows samples of "worsted tops" and of cloth before and after being finished. You will be surprised at this difference, and to know the many processes before the cloth is actually ready to make into garments. Do not miss this yourselves, but if you must miss it, let the children see it. It is an education to the youngsters.

If you are not interested in the display, you will be interested in the clothes. As usual—$12.50 to $25.

LOMBARD GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT

ILLINOIS VICTORS IN HARD
STRUGGLE 14 TO 7.

Visitors Revealed Strong Line and Played in Mid-season Form—Illinois' Work Brilliant Both on Offensive and Defense—First Touch Down Goes to Local Varsity.

Illinois college football eleven achieved a brilliant victory over Lombard college Saturday afternoon on Illinois field, by a score of 14 to 7. It was a signal victory in that Lombard's men have played before this season, and this was Illinois' first contest. Lombard of whom little has been heard this season, appeared on the gridiron, with a team almost in mid-season form and with a line that was equal to the rock of Gibraltar. While Lombard has a fast back field, their main strength yesterday was in their line. Illinois was outwitted by several pounds in the line and Lombard held like demons, especially when their goal was threatened. It took no half-coached team to stop such a bunch of players as Lombard sent down and when the first half was called with the score, 14 to 0 against them, it was very evident that if hard playing was going to get anywhere they were willing to pay the price.

Best Initial Game.
The game Illinois put up was by far the best initial performance any Illinois squad ever put up. It is not very often that a team which has never played a game for the season, would be called upon to meet such a formidable foe. Coach Derby of Lombard, who had hinted that he would pull out some of Zuppke's open plays failed to find them big ground gainers. In fact time and time again, Illinois broke up their forward passes. The passes Illinois attempted were cleverly executed in a great many instances and proved to be ground gainers.

Lombard Rough.
The Lombard men are rough players, which was evidenced from the advantages they took when the players mixed. Fred Stewart's toe proved a big factor in the game and he punted out of danger several times. Fred's advancement of the ball on end runs brought the glad hand from the spectators. While Illinois' line was not as strong as Lombard's the I. C. men gave the visitors an example of what a team inferior in weight can do. If Illinois this early in the season can administer a defeat to a team like Lombard, what will they do when the season is winding up? Mitchell's work was great yesterday and Frisbie was in the game every minute. He clearly outplayed Phillips, the visitors' star tackle. Coach's new men, Melior, Ray and Wilson, in the first college game showed up well and their work shows what can be expected of them from time to time. Ex-Captain Alford was working his old style at full, and Hansel Wilson showed his old time "pep".

A dispute arose as to downs and after a five minute conference on what the rule book said, the game proceeded. And in speaking of Calhoun's work, in the 2nd half of the game it was of a poor quality, inflicting penalty on both teams and especially on Illinois which should never have been counted. He gave evidence of not having the rules on the tip of his lips or else the visitors had him frightened.

First Quarter.
The game started with Lombard kicking to Illinois. The ball was received by H. Wilson and carried back 20 yards. A forward pass attempted gave Lombard the ball. Lombard tried two line backs and then kicked to Illinois' 30 yard line. Illinois fumbled on 35 yard line. Webster made a circle of Illinois' end for 15 yard gain, followed by a seven yard gain by quarter back Winter. Mitchell intercepted a forward pass on their own 20 yard line. Illinois kicked out of danger, Lombard returning the punt. Illinois took a brace using end runs with Stewart and Hansel advancing the ball. Working the ball down to the 30 yard line Hansel Wilson got away for a touch down and Frisbie kicked goal making the score 7 to 0. Thirteen minutes were consumed in making the touch down.

At this junction of the game, Coach Derby yanked out Heller and put Capt. Foedisch in his place. Foedisch was held out by Coach Derby at the beginning of the game, thinking perhaps he would not be needed. Heller took French's place at left end.

Lombard kicked off H. Wilson, returning the ball fifteen yards. Lombard was punished fifteen yards for holding. The quarter ended with the ball on Lombard's 45 yard line.

Second Quarter.
After trying a line plunge Stewart dropped back and booted the ball to Lombard's 20 yard line. Lombard after a fumble punted, Stewart receiving the kick and returning the ball 20 yards. After the second attempt Illinois succeeded at a forward pass to Frisbie. Illinois took a big brace and aided by two good gains by Mitchell, carried the ball within two feet of goal. Alford bucking the line for a touch down. Frisbie kicked goal. Score 14 to 0 in favor of Illinois.

At this moment Coach Derby sent in Pugh to relieve Webster at left guard. Illinois kicked off and Lombard carried the ball back for a good gain. Illinois was punished 15 yards. Lombard after two line backs attempted their second forward pass, but were unable to make their downs. Illinois having the ball on the 20 yard line. Illinois kicked out of danger to the center of the field. Rosequist made a five yard gain through Illinois' line, when time was called. Score 14 to 0 in favor of Illinois.

Third Quarter.
Lombard kicked off, after Adkinson relieved Jackson at right half for the visitors. Illinois was unable to make their downs and Stewart kicked out of danger, to Lombard 35 yard line. Illinois advanced the ball by two good end runs but although a forward pass to Frisbie gained some ground, Lombard held the locals for downs. Lombard couldn't gain consistently and punted. Illinois getting ball on the 20 yard line. Lombard gained 15 yards on a forward pass and Illinois was penalized for off side play. Lombard began to buck the line with a vengeance, and after a terrific battering of Illinois' line Lombard worked the ball to within one foot of goal when the whistle blew for the quarter. Coach Harmon sent in Russell to relieve Ray Wilson at center.

Fourth Quarter.
The 4th quarter opened with Lombard only a foot to gain. Adkinson was sent around the end for the touch down and just did make it. Halloran kicked goal, score 14 to 7 for Illinois.

Lombard kicked to Frisbie who returned the ball 10 yards, although he stumbled in picking it up. Being unable to make their downs, Illinois punted and Lombard returned the punt to Illinois' five yard line. After working the ball down the field it was secured on a fumble by the visitors. Lombard tried to punt and was thrown for a loss. Illinois tried two line plunges but were unable to make their downs. Lombard punted to Illinois' 45 yard line. Frisbie caught a hard pass and Lombard got ball on their 27 yard line as the result of a fumble by Illinois. The game for the rest of the quarter was a fight up and down the field with neither side making any considerable headway. The head linesman's whistle ended the game with the ball in the center of the field.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS TODAY.

Oct. 10.
Rt. Hon. Sir Rufus Daniel Isaacs, Lord Reading, the famous British financier and Lord Chief Justice of England, is 55 years old today. He is the man who arranged the big loan to England and France, at a conference of American bankers in New York. He has the distinction of being the first Jew to hold the position of Lord Chief Justice in England. As Sir Rufus Isaacs he became known as one of the great barristers in England. Because of his knowledge of finance he was chosen to come to America to arrange the big loan. Further interest in his visit to America was added by the fact that his wife was a New York girl, Edith Cohen. Sir Rufus was born in London on Oct. 10, 1860, the son of a Jewish merchant. He disliked school, but was sent to several colleges. Most of his education was gained in the university of experience. He sailed before the mast for a few years, and was then placed in the produce business by his father. From business he stepped into the stock exchange, where he made a brilliant success. The King almost invariably looked to him for his tips on the market and it is hinted that his information brought heavy returns to the crown. But it was in the law that Sir Rufus was to shine the brightest. After a few lean years, he began to be recognized. He entered Parliament in 1905 and became Attorney General in 1910. When a vacancy occurred in the highest court of England, Sir Rufus was given the honor. In 1912. Since then he has reflected great credit on his race, and is recognized as one of England's most brilliant men.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

SIGNS OF LIBERAL MOVEMENT OF CROP OVERCOME EARLY ADVANCE

Late Selling of Wheat is Under the Leadership of One of the Chief Elevator Companies — Bearish Pressure Has the Same Success With Corn.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Signs of a liberal increase of the winter crop movement next week operated as a nearly complete offset today for an early advance in the price of wheat. The result was an unsettled close, 1/2c to 1/4c net, high, with December at $1.02 1/2@1.02 3/4 and May at $1.02 1/2@1.03.

Corn finished 1/2c off to 1/4c up, oats varying from a shade decline to 1/2c gain and provisions dearer by 7/8c to 10c to 25c.

Late selling of wheat was under the leadership of one of the chief elevator companies and was explained as being an attempt to anticipate the effect of enlarged arrivals predicted to begin Monday from the winter crop territory. Gossip was also current that there would be a moderate increase in the U. S. visible supply total on Monday.

Bearish pressure had the same success with corn as with wheat. Crop damage reports from Illinois and Iowa failed to make any important lasting impression and so did talk of a number of recent shipments having been made to Europe.

Oats were swayed almost wholly by the action of other cereals, country offerings remained small.

Higher prices for hogs carried provisions up. Active export demand continued.

NEW BOOKS AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The books will be ready for circulation this morning at 9 o'clock: Some Interesting Fiction.

Atherton—The Conqueror. Being the true and romantic story of Alexander Hamilton.

Cable—The Cavalier.—Gift. Lund—Oliver in Willowmere. A romance of Fenland. Mrs. Lund has done for the country about Ely and Peterborough and Crowland what Phillips has done for Dartmoor and Devonshire. The bare aloofness of the richest soil in England with its staunch, deliberate and unyielding population is pictured with a skill that speaks of intimate knowledge. The types of which Mrs. Lund writes are fast disappearing.

Miss Massee, editor of the A. L. A. Booklist says this is a novel much above the average and the book is favorably noted in the Dial.

Mrs. Lund is a niece of Mr. William H. Jackson of this city and the manor house in Willowmere is a description of Mr. Jackson's old home in the Fen country. Here Mrs. Lund spent much of her childhood.

"The towing patch led me out gradually into the heart of the fen. There was something infinitely reposeful in the solitude, the width of the landscape;—I seemed to have passed out of modern life into a quieter and older world,—and little by little there stole into my heart—a dreamlike tranquillity, the calm of the slow moving stream, the leisurely herds, the growing grass. All seemed to be moving together, neither lingering nor making haste, to some far off end within the quiet mind of God."—A. C. Benson.

Shaw—Unsocial Socialist. Gift. Rent Fiction. Joseph—Polity.

Hubbard—Little Journeys to the Homes of Great Reformers. Gift. Titles of these biographies are Bradlaugh, John Bright, Richard Cobden, Oliver Cromwell, Garibaldi, Henry George, Anne Hutchinson, John Knox, Thomas Paine, Theodore Parker, Rousseau, John Wesley.

Jackson—Huldreich Zwingli. Gift. Miscellaneous. American Academy of Political and Social Science. Annals. These monographs written and edited by authorities treat of modern problems from a modern standpoint. The subjects are Cost of Food Distribution, Housing and Town Planning, International Relations, Negroes Progress in Fifty Years, Public Utilities, Reform of Justice, Regulation of Water Transportation, and Women in Public Life.

Alderman—School Credit for Home Work. "It would seem that Mr. Alderman, city superintendent of schools in Portland, Oregon, has successfully solved the problem, immemorably persistent with parents of making attractive those home duties which the average child avoids if possible. His plan briefly is to give home credit for industrial work done at home. In development of this plan parents and teacher work together.—A friendly little book sane and logical in its suggestions."—Boston Transcript.

Ryeeroff. "Under the thin disguise of editorship, Mr. George Gissing has collected musings on life and literature, with now and then a chapter on art or philosophy or religion. Introspective and retrospective, the book may be assumed to give, with some degree of faithfulness, glimpses of Mr. Gissing's own struggle with untoward conditions and his toilsome ascent from obscure hack-writer to successful authorship."—Dial 1903.

India and the War. Gift of Sir Gilbert Parker.

GRIGGSVILLE. Miss Daisy Mayo of Pittsfield is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Cravenger.

Mrs. Faye Shiffner of St. Louis is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Miller and family.

P. E. Taylor and family left today for their new home in Winchester, where Mr. Taylor has entered into business. Miss Helen Taylor will remain here this winter and attend school.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Reed of Pittsfield visited Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Doane, Mrs. V. Doane and daughter, Miss Jennie, were shopping in Quincy Monday. The funeral of Frank Hoos was held yesterday afternoon. Deceased died Friday at Valley City after a several days illness with pneumonia. Burial was in Griggsville cemetery.

Mrs. C. G. Winn and Mrs. Grace Yates have been spending a few days in St. Louis.

Sunday morning our people were sorry to hear that Charley Medaris had passed away during the night. Saturday, Mr. Medaris worked as usual and in the evening retired as well as usual. Shortly after midnight his wife awoke and was horrified to find he was cold having been dead some hours. He was 73 years old and was a carpenter. A few years ago he was tax collector. He leaves a wife, and three children, Charley of Butler, Mo.; Mrs. J. W. Bowen of Colorado, and Oliver of Quincy. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at Bethel by Rev. T. L. Hancock of Meredosia and burial will be in Bethel cemetery.

Ben D. Miller.

As has formerly been mentioned, Ben D. Miller is soon to assume the position of assistant manager at the Pacific hotel, succeeding George Scott. Mr. Miller is widely known among the traveling men and is accounted one of the best clerks in the state. He was at the Pacific hotel about six years ago, also at the Dunlap. From there he went to the Regis hotel in Peoria and from there to the Elmo in East St. Louis where he has been since. It is reported that Ben accepted a smaller salary than he was getting at East St. Louis, in order to be among his many friends here who will be glad to welcome him back.

WHEELER & SORRELLS TAKE OVER MODERN GARAGE MONDAY

Well Known Young Men Will Begin Business As Successors to David Estaque.

As will be seen by their advertisement in this paper H. E. Wheeler and Basil Sorrells will on Monday assume charge of the Modern garage on West Court street. This garage has been owned by David Estaque since its establishment and is one of the largest and best in the state. The invoice of the stock has been going on for several days and the final work will be completed today and possession given by Mr. Estaque to the firm can begin business Monday morning.

The firm name will be Wheeler and Sorrells. Mr. Wheeler is a young man of known business ability. He has always been engaged in the occupation of farming, having a large farm near Prentice. Mr. Sorrells has had wide experience in the automobile business. He started in the business in 1909 with the International company. He was then with the Rambler company in Springfield. He then worked for Lewis and Wehrle and L. F. O'Donnell and has recently been with William Newman, Jr. Mr. Sorrells is himself an excellent mechanic.

The firm will conduct the Modern garage in a first-class manner. The same expert mechanics will be kept for repairs of all kinds, vulcanizing and in fact anything pertaining to automobile work. A complete line of accessories will be carried and the firm will make a specialty of storing and care of cars. The young men are entering the business under promising circumstances and there is every reason to forecast their success.

WITH THE SICK

Mr. Landman, an Alton employee who had his knee injured and has been a patient at Passavant hospital, returned to his home in Roodhouse yesterday.

Mr. Odiorne, the photographer of Berry, who has been a patient at Passavant hospital returned to his home at Roodhouse yesterday.

Vest Daniels, of Franklin, was in the city yesterday to accompany his wife home from Passavant hospital. Joseph Clayton, who resides at the home of W. A. Jenkinson on West State street has been very ill for the past few days. He was reported improved Saturday.

Ezra Coors is ill at his home on North Main street.

Charles E. Gunn, who for a number of weeks, has been at Our Savior's hospital following an operation for appendicitis, has gone to the home of his mother, west of the city, much improved.

PERPETUAL STRAWBERRIES. Wiley Todd, of Lynville precinct, says he has a kind of strawberries that might be called perpetual producers. They began bearing in July and have been doing so ever since, and at present there are many berries on the vines and only a short time ago they had enough for a meal. He doesn't know any especial name for them but they deserve to be called perpetual bearers.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS FOR ANNUAL LUNCHEON

MANY NEW MEMBERS ATTEND OPENING EVENT OF YEAR FULL OF PROMISE.

From Grace Church Parlors Audience Goes to Academy Hall and Sees Delineation of Club Life, Past and Present—Names Added to Membership.

The most successful opening meeting in the history of the Jacksonville Woman's club took place Saturday when two hundred and nine women enjoyed a luncheon at Grace M. E. church and going thence to Academy hall, witnessed a program of superior cleverness in which were contrasted club life in 1839 and the duties and responsibilities which face the club woman of the present year. The Ladies' Educational society was founded in 1833 and, according to best authority, is the oldest woman's organization in America today. In a one-act play written by Mrs. Sherman Leavitt, members of Gamma Delta society of Illinois college, arrayed in costume of days ago, set forth with skill and grace the story of a meeting in 1839, in times when women were seen in public but not heard. For the signal success with which the play was received credit is due to Miss Helen Crawley, who coached the girls and to Mrs. Thomas Worthington who had in charge arrangements for its presentation.

After the luncheon, which was served by Mrs. A. H. Atherton's circle of the Pastor's Aid society and was promptly appointed and well prepared, Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson, president of the club spoke a word of greeting for the year just beginning and introduced with pleasing directness the members of the executive board. Mrs. Anne W. Jackson gave a resume of "Miss Adams Makes a Suggestion," the play by Mrs. Leavitt, and Mrs. David W. Reid made an appeal for donations to the loan chest. Mrs. Ben Lurton called attention to the first meeting of the domestic science round table which will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. 220 Spink with Miss Clara Cobb as leader. The round table had in charge the October luncheon.

"Today, Home Centered, Not Home Bound," was the sentiment expressed in monologue form by Mrs. J. Parker Doan, in a sketch of a discussion following a meeting of the Morgan County Federation in the year 1915. Miss Janette C. Powell gave the monologue with an attention to significant detail well nigh perfect.

Following is the cast of characters of the Gamma Delta play:
Mrs. Beecher.....Ruth Brown
Mrs. Sturtevant.....Clara Bell Yehling
Mrs. Baldwin.....Velma Dugger
Mrs. Walcott.....Grace McLaughlin
Miss Adams.....Lois Daniels
Miss Coffin.....Velma Wray
Mrs. E. A. Reed.....Marion Candee
Mrs. E. R. Gillett.....Ione Linder
Mrs. M. A. Kilkinson.....Ruth Badger

More than fifty new members have been added to the club since the close of last year's work in May. The club now has a membership of almost three hundred. The new members:

Mrs. Orville Adkisson, Miss Juliette Ames, Miss Margaret Ayers, Miss Gertrude Ayers, Mrs. O. N. Barr, Mrs. Harry Benson, Mrs. Harry Brady, Mrs. Edward D. Canatsev, Miss Grace Carter, Miss Mary B. CHARLES WOOD HAS SOLD GOOD LIST OF FEED COOKERS

Plan of Softening Corn Here Met With Favor Among Cattle Men.

Charles Wood has recently returned from a trip to Indianapolis, Ind., and various points in Missouri and Indiana. He has been away for a number of weeks seeking to interest farmers in his plan of softening grain for cattle and hogs. He has been quite successful as the following list of sales indicates:

A. G. Jeffers, Frankfort, Ky. $200
J. C. Noel, Frankfort, Ky. 160
J. C. Ward, Frankfort, Ky. 160
Keene McGinnis, Frankfort, Ky. 160
T. Rinacher, Carlisle, Ill. 80
H. T. Loeper, Mt. Auburn, Ill. 80
A. C. Hershberger, Arthur, Ill. 240
Eli Hershberger, Arthur, Ill. 240
J. P. O'Brien, Springfield, Ill. 160
F. E. Sherer, Joy, Ill. 128
G. L. Burgess, Piment, Ill. 160
Guyton & Herrington, East St. Louis, Ill. 250
John Walters, Crawfordville, Ind. 100
David S. Hunter, Red Oak, Ia. 100
E. G. Smith, Edinburgh, Ill. 100
F. Linsey, Quincy, Ill. 80

The price varies with the size of the cooker or rack sold. Mr. Wood says that all of his customers who tried softeners in the last year now claim that they save one-half the feed bill, and Mr. Wood is offering $50 in cash if anyone can find a purchaser who is dissatisfied with the result. All the men mentioned above have found that the use of the cooker saves in the amount of corn to be used and that at the same time the cattle are kept in healthier condition. Mr. Wood offered to sell cookers to feeders who will agree to give him one-half the corn saved during a given period of time.

GREAT RANGE SALE HELD AT THE ANDRE & ANDRE STORE

Thirty of the Famous Copper Clad Ranges Sold in Just Six Days.

The special sale of copper clad malleable ranges at the Andre & Andre store this week was one of the largest ever recorded in Illinois. When the week of demonstration closed last night the records showed that exactly thirty ranges had been sold. The advantages and features of the copper clad are so distinctive that those who examine the range are immediately convinced of these superiorities. The principle is simple, yet the very fact that the range is lined with a rust-proof copper inner wall assures a range life far above the number of years.

Malleable iron is used in place of sheet steel or sheet iron for the back flue and adjacent parts and this type of construction also adds very materially to the strength of the range. The whole range impresses one as built so compactly and in such accord with scientific principles that the very best possible results have been obtained. Evidently the many people who visited the Andre & Andre store the past week because of this demonstration felt the same way about it. Otherwise there would not have been such a large number of sales and the new record set for a city of this size.

SUFFERS INJURY TO EAR.

Edwin Andras Saye, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Saye, suffered a painful accident Saturday forenoon at the home of his grandfather, J. C. Andras, of Manchester, which will result in loss of hearing in one ear. Following his grandfather into a wheat bin, the boy lost his footing and in falling came in contact with a stick or splinter which entered his ear and pierced the drum. Dr. J. W. Weiss and Dr. W. C. Knox, of Manchester, gave immediate attention and Dr. A. L. Adams was called on arrival of young Saye at Our Savior's hospital Saturday afternoon.

MERCHANTS PREPARING FOR NATIONAL WINDOW DISPLAY WEEK

Exhibits of Advertised Line Will be Many—Six Prizes Offered for the Best Displays—Committee Will Make Awards Auto Show in Park.

A number of the merchants of Jacksonville who have agreed to make special window displays of newspaper advertised goods during the week of Oct. 11 to 16, were busy Saturday dressing their windows. The great majority, however, will do this window decorating work tomorrow, and the indications are that as a whole the store windows will be more attractive this week than has ever before been true the same period of the year. The prizes offered by the local papers for the best displays have had something to do with this window interests, but the fact that the movement is country-wide has probably had a larger influence with the merchants than the possible hope of winning prizes.

Manufacturers of newspaper advertised goods have written the merchants asking them to make special displays of these lines during the week, and the request, coupled with that of the newspapers, has resulted in the present activity. In order to make the work of judging best windows the easier for the committee which will award the prizes, merchandise has been divided into three classes.

Class A includes dry goods, clothing, furnishings, millinery, ready to wear, shoes and jewelry.

Class B includes groceries, drugs, confectionery, meat markets.

Class C includes house furnishings, hardware, musical instruments, electrical goods, plumbing, auto accessories.

Two prizes are offered for each class. The first prize will be a half page advertisement in both the Courier and the Journal. It is very possible that some goods will be used in the window displays which are not classed as newspaper advertised, and the committee which will make the selection will be furnished with a list of newspaper advertised goods which will govern them in making the award. It is the hope of the papers that the Woman's club will select the committee which will attend to the matter of passing upon the excellence of the various displays.

As previously announced, it is also the intention to have an Automobile show in Central park on Saturday, Oct. 16, the final day of Window Display Week. The park commissioners when asked by the local papers, very readily gave their consent to the use of the park for this purpose. All dealers who have been interviewed thus far have been enthusiastically in favor of the proposition, and the matter will be called to the attention of other dealers tomorrow. A plot of the park will be made and space allotted to every dealer who wishes to show one or more cars. There will be no expense at all attached to the exhibit, the only purpose being to provide this show as a feature of the week. There are a number of new models of machines here and the people of the county will probably appreciate the opportunity of seeing them all together at one time, and comparing the points of advantage claimed by the different dealers.

NOTICE TO CONSUMERS.

ELECT NEW SECRETARY.

Dr. W. P. Duncan was elected secretary of the Medical club last evening, succeeding Dr. Crouch, who will leave this week for California. At a farewell dinner at the Peacock Inn for the retiring secretary, Dr. Crouch made response to words in behalf of the club by Dr. T. J. Pitzer. At the regular session of the club, which followed the 7 o'clock dinner, Dr. E. F. Baker presented the subject of typhoid fever in Illinois.

CORN PRIZE AWARDED AT GAY'S HARDWARE STORE.
